PROSPECTS FOR FAIR ARE FINE

Concessions Are Being Taken
Earlier Than Ever Before and Management is Energetic

NIGHT FAIR AGAIN THIS YEAR

Another Meeting of Fair Board Will be Held Saturday to Arrange
Speed Program

Whenever a crowd of Rush county fair boosters get together nowadays the talk naturally turns to the annual county fair and the excellent prospects it enjoys this year. The meeting of the fair board this week was the medium for exchange of ideas and a discussion of prospects. Another meeting of the board will be held Saturday at which time the speed program will be arranged.

The fact that there will be four five hundred dollar stake races on the program is expected to add much to the racing at the fair. Of course, the stake races will not be held unless they fill but there is every reason to believe that they will fill this year because similar events will be on all of the fairs in the southeastern Indiana association, which will be a continuous circuit.

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the fair, is authority for the statement that there will be running races on the speed program this year, in addition to the usual program of trots and paces. It has been many years since a running race has been seen on the local race track so that it is likely these events will be great attractions.

The fair board is also going to see to it that there is a fox chase this year. The board has already appointed J. H. Pike a committee of one to get a fox for that chase. One was advertised for last year but it did not materialize. The fair management had a fox engaged but a short time before the fair it escaped.

It has been announced that W. S. Oneal has been appointed superintendent of the special attractions. The participation of Mr. Oneal in the fair management will, it is believed, greatly enliven this feature of the fair and some very unique

HERE'S MAN WHO CAN KNIT PAIR OF SOCKS ON TRIP FROM ANDERSON TO RUSHVILLE

Charley Manville, Big Four Conductor, Today Relates Funny Experience he Had on Train.

VERY UNUSUAL, YES IT'S TRUE

Charley Manville of Anderson, conductor on this division of the Big Four, had a good one—the kind that was so new that it sparkled—when the southbound passenger pulled in here this morning. Ordinarily Conductor Manville is a very somber fellow, not much given to fun making, but when he saw an old German—a man, you understand—pull out a knitting “kit” after he boarded the Big Four passenger at Anderson yesterday morning, and devote himself diligently to his knitting all the way to Rushville, the conductor had to laugh—he just couldn't help it. And this morning he was still smiling as he repeated the circumstances. “It's not an unusual thing,” rela-

PAYS COSTS AND MARRIES

in One Day.

Shortly after she paid the costs this morning in her divorce suit and legally obtained a divorce, which was granted January 18, Mrs. Mary M. Wolfe was married to Francis M. Brown, Squire Kratzer performing the ceremony. The divorce was granted Mrs. Wolfe almost a month ago but the costs in the case were never paid until this morning and just in time to get married the second time. Mr. Brown appeared in the clerk's office with his bride-to-be and attorney when the costs were paid and immediately applied for a marriage license.

The attorneys went to Connersville this morning and held a joint session with the Fayette association. The funeral services were conducted this afternoon at two o'clock in the First Presbyterian church.

The following attorneys of this city attended: Judge Will M. Sparks, Samuel L. Trabue, John A. Tinsworth, John D. Megee, George W. Young, Wallace Morgan, T. M. Offutt, A. L. Gary and Howard Barrett.

The pall bearers were George W. Pignman, of Liberty, Judge Sparks, of this city, M. P. Hubbard of Brookville, R. N. Elliott, Raymond Springer and Allen Wiles of Connersville, all Masons and closely associated with Mr. Conner through many years.

—Jack Stonecipher and Lowell Henley were in Indianapolis last evening and saw the Folies at the English Opera House.

SAVES THIS CITY A HEAVY EXPENSE

Legislature Makes Bill Providing
Sewage Not be Dumped Into Streams Apply to Indianapolis.

THIS IS A REGULAR BUGABOO

Had Measure as Introduced Become Law Sewage Disposal Plant
Would Have Been Necessary.

Attention has been called to the fact that the state legislature saved Rushville and all other cities in the state, for that matter, a whole lot of trouble and a heavy expense when it killed the amendment to the Deck bill providing that no city in the state should dump its sewage into a stream.

The legislature voted to make the measure apply to Indianapolis only and thus disposed of this bugaboo for another period of two years. This is a measure that recurs every two years but has always failed to pass. It is advocated by its friends that it will eventually become a law in Indiana.

This sort of a law would work a great hardship on the taxpayers, especially those in cities the size of Rushville because a sewage disposal plant would be very costly and would increase the tax burden. It is held by advocates of the bill that dumping sewage into streams is unsanitary.

It was expected that the state senate committee on judiciary B would report favorably today on the house bill giving civil war veterans the right to hunt and fish without a license. This is the bill which was introduced in the house by Representative W. R. Jinnett of this county and was passed by the house.

Much amusement has been afforded by the bill which provides that lazy men who refuse to support their families shall be compelled to work on the streets. The measure required that the family of the lazy men be given two dollars a day for their services, but the senate committee will report favorably on the bill will also recommend that the sum be paid the lazy husband shall be one dollar a day instead of two.

A bill that has caused some comment here in Rushville is that one designed to take the judiciary out of politics. It would eliminate the party in voting on judicial candidates. The senate committee will report favorably on the bill, it was stated in the Indianapolis Star this morning.

STILL IN SESSION.

The grand jury was again busy today examining a large number of witnesses. Several women and children were before the jury this afternoon, but the nature of the cases under investigation could not be learned. The case involving a large number of witnesses from the western part of the city was completed this morning, some of the witnesses waiting two days before being able to get before the investigating body.

ORDERS BANKS TO STOP PRACTICE

Comptroller of Currency Sends Circular Letter to all National Financial Institutions

COPIES ARE RECEIVED HERE

Official Orders Bank Directors to Adopt Resolutions Forbidding Overdrafts.

The national banks here have received circular letters which have been sent out from Washington by the comptroller of the currency calling attention to the fact that bankers should not allow any overdrafts. The letter is very plain spoken and sets out a definite course for national banks.

It is said to be a bit distasteful to bankers to have to follow this rule when there may be many times when a large depositor unwittingly writes a check that overdraws a few cents or few dollars on his account. In such a case, under this ruling, the bankers would have to refuse to pay the check of a large depositor no matter if the banker were absolutely certain that the overdraft would be forthcoming the instant the depositor was informed of it.

The letter is addressed to the board of directors and instructs them to draw up resolutions as follows:

“The granting by some banks of accommodations in the form of overdrafts is objectionable and can not be countenanced by this office.

“You are requested to adopt a resolution directing that no officer or employee of your bank shall pay or charge to the account of any depositor any check of such depositor when there are not sufficient funds on deposit to the credit of the drawer of the check to meet the same.

“Please forward a certified copy of the resolution to this office as soon as it has been adopted. Let the resolution show the names of the directors present at the meeting.”

Centerville Blaze Starts in Old Court House Building.

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 11.—Fire early today destroyed $26,000 worth of property in the town of Centerville, six miles west of Richmond. The fire had its origin in one of the stores in what is known as the old court house building. This structure was the county seat of Wayne half a century ago and was one of the historic structures of eastern Indiana. Richmond sent a chemical wagon and fireman to aid. The fire may be investigated as some believe it was on incendiary.

EFFORT MADE TO DISCIPLINE HIM

Senator Ballou Says Zearing Was Going to Chastise Him For Opposing Mayor Bell's Bill.

POOL SELLING BILL PASSES

Senate Votes by Overwhelming Majority to Allow Betting on Races at County Fairs.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The Hirsch racing bill which is the pet measure of every county fair association in the state passed the senate today, 26 to 10. There was no commotion. No one appeared to listen to Senator Hirsch's speech, the only one made on the bill, which he read from manuscript.

The bill which goes to the house would allow gambling on the races by the Par-mutuel system which Hirsch declared was harmless.

LaPorte and Porter counties were especially interested. Among those who voted for the bill was Edward C. Eikman, representing Rush, Fayette and Hancock counties.

Senator Ballou charged today that an attempt had been made to discipline him because he voted against the Mayor Bell finance board bill for Indianapolis. He named Senator Zearing.

Ballou's charge was sensational and the senate was for the moment dumbfounded. He walked slowly to the front of the chamber and with a voice trembling with emotion charged that Zearing had declared in public places that he would move to reconsider Ballou's drainage bill in order to discipline Ballou. Both men are Democrats.

Zearing did not reply to Ballou's charge and his motion to reconsider was lost, with only Zearing voting for it.

“I have respect for all the senators from Marion except for the one who introduced this motion and for him I have none,” said Ballou.

The Sare bill provided that no new state banks may be organized unless a state charter board signs that there is need for a new bank in the community passed the house today, 63 to 21. Representative Benz opposed the bill saying it would enable existing banks to shut out competition.

FAIR HERE OPPOSED.

The board of directors of the Rush County Fair association went on record at its meeting Tuesday as being opposed to the Hirsch bill which would legalize gambling at the county fair race tracks. The board protested against it to the senator and representative from this county.

Don't be Fooled With Substitutes

Where you ask for an article you saw advertised in this newspaper, insist on getting what you ask for.

If the dealer offers something “just as good” you have a right to view him with suspicion.

The advertised article has behind it a definite name.

It is backed by a reputable maker. Its pedigree is assured.

The substitute has only the dealer's word to recommend it and, selling it means more profit to him.

Offering things “just as good” is a practice not tolerated by reputable dealers.

NOT IN THE FOOD BUSINESS

England Not Ready Yet to Buy Supply and Regulate Price.

London, Feb. 11.—England is not yet ready either to buy up all food supplies for distribution or to fix a minimum price above which merchants shall not go to sell such articles. In the house of commons this evening Premier Asquith declined to back a maximum price movement or to have the government take over the business of marketing food-stuff.

PEACE HAS SLIM CHANCE.

London, Feb. 11.—The allies see no likelihood of an opening that would lead towards peace at this time. This was emphasized in the house of commons this afternoon by Sir Edward Grey.

BREATHE FRESH AIR AND YOU'LL BE HEALTHY.

Breathe all the fresh air you can get, night and day. That's what fresh air is for. The fearsome legend about the baleful influences of "night air" is only another of the carefully nursed insanitary bequests from our ancestors, according to Senior Surgeon Banks, of the United States Public Health Service.

Whence this superstition arose may only be surmised. Perhaps it is a survival of the primeval cult of Sun worship, which led the ancient to classify anything outside the sphere of solar influence. Our forebears were wont to caution their offspring to "be careful about the night air" or children were ordered to "come in out of the night air." It is perhaps fortunate for the children living in the arctic circle, where the nights are six months long, that the esquimaux mothers do not entertain this crude notion about night air, else their progeny would spend half the year indoors.

This idea is generally prevalent and even one of our well-known flowers is loaded down with the horrible name of "Deadly Nightshade" as a sort of verbal relic of this old notion. The low-lying mist or fog that sometimes gathers about the surface of the earth under certain atmospheric condition, after sunset, was held, is held, to be "miasmatic" and pregnant with lethal possibilities. This is worthy of all the respect that should be put to any hoary superstition, but it's place is in the specimen jars of an archaeological museum, not in the show room of modern intelligent life.

The night air, minus the sun, is no different from the atmosphere of a sunless day. The atmospheric envelope of the earth does not change from benign to malign in the twinkling of an eye after sundown. It is still composed of oxygen, nitrogen, argon and carbon dioxide in the normal proportions for the given locality. The open air treatment of tuberculosis and its kindred allies had first to combat this venerable jargon about the deadliness of night air, and only the remarkable results of this hygienic aid to its cure brought the superstitions to a realization of the silliness of their ingrained neurophobia.

This generation has witnessed the emancipation of human beings in respect to the value of fresh air, whether in bulk or in smaller "drafts." From being a people immersed in hermetically sealed rooms at night, breathing our own bodily exhalations over and over again, a constantly increasing number of persons are sleeping in the open or at least with open windows, summer and winter, to their great benefit. In the morning they are refreshed with the pure oxygen of the air breathed during sleep, not "stewed" nor "seedy" after eight hours spent in respiring and re-respiring second-hand and shop-worm air in a closed bedroom.

A story from the trenches in France is that a soldier wrote home to his wife to open her windows at night as he had found that the night air "didn't hurt one bit." That is the experience of all the advocates of this sensible custom—once tried the old custom of sealing one's self in an airtight bedroom is never renewed. Diseases which involve the lungs can usually be traced to their beginning in poorly ventilated sleeping apartments, inside rooms that do not have a share of the atmosphere. Nothing can live well long without oxygen in the air, and it was given to us for breathing, night and day, not to be taken in sparingly, as if it were a dangerous potion. Some people are actually afraid of ordinary, common air.

Those emancipated persons who open their windows at night will tell you, unanimously, that they cannot breathe in a chamber unless the window is raised, their sense of comfort and vigor demands the life giving qualities of fresh air. No greater prophylactic advice can be promulgated than to breathe all the fresh atmospheric air you can get, night and day.

—Mrs. Will Thompson and Mrs. Van Kennedy of Crawfordsville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Orville Collier and family in West Ninth street.

—Walter Hall was among the passengers this morning to Indianapolis, and will see the Follies tonight at the English Opera House.

England Figures on Paralyzing All German Commerce.

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 11.—In the house of commons this afternoon Premier Asquith announced the British government was considering drastic measures to paralyze all German commerce. He said that the recent "flagrant breaches of the rules of international warfare" made such steps necessary. While it is not disclosed what action is contemplated at this time, it is understood that the suggested "submarine blockade" by Germany may be followed by an actual blockade of all the German coast by the British fleet.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Cancer Not Definite Disease

People commonly think of cancer as a single definite disease, as distinct and uniform in its nature and symptoms as appendicitis or typhoid fever, but that idea is erroneous and one that the Journal of the American Medical association is trying to correct. The Journal says this is a misconception. It says it is nearer the truth to regard "cancer" as the name of a group of quite different diseases which have one feature in common. It has been said that the layman's conception of cancer is of something very indefinite, very portentous, quite hopeless, a disease which always affects someone else than himself, and about which he carries no immediate interest or responsibility. If this is a fair statement, the layman is wrong on practically every count, and his error and confusion is probably due, in no small part, to the failure to take account of the many forms of cancer. If this were done perhaps the patient would not so frequently yield to despair and throw away the excellent chance of cure that exists when the disease is first discovered.

As a matter of fact, "cancer," in the light of modern knowledge of human ailments, is almost as general and vague a term as "fever." The word covers a number of entirely distinct diseases, differing widely in their origin, symptoms, treatment and curability. The various kinds of tumors have little in common except that they are all forms of new and lawless growth of bodycells.

This false notion of cancer as a single disease has probably hindered progress toward the understanding and control of the various diseases which are conveniently grouped under that term. All forms of cancer are aspects of new and lawless cell growth, and it is the inner nature or "cause" of such growth that we do not yet understand.

The essential point for the man in that each different kind of cancer is a separate disease. If he is so unlucky as to be attacked by any one of them, it would be well before becoming discouraged to go and find out which form he has. If he is taken with a "fever," and it happens to be German measles, his outlook on life is quite different than if it chances to be virulent small-pox. So, also, a "rodent ulcer" on the face is quite different from cancer of the stomach. And lastly while one is a more serious disease than the other, there is always hope if it is recognized and treated at once. Why not give the surgeon the same chance with cancer as he has with appendicitis? Suppose all symptoms of that disease were neglected and hidden until the appendix had burst? Doubtless the surgeon would still save a certain percentage of cases, but would the record be anything like it is now? It is the intelligent cooperation of the patient and the family physician that has conquered appendicitis, and the same weapons are even more needed in the fight against cancer.

GOVERNOR NOT TO GET MANSION

Economy Fever Hits Legislature and Proposition For Executive Home is Turned Down.

LITTLE SENTIMENT IN FAVOR

Majority Believed That it Was Inopportune Time to Start Move—Other States in Line.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Although twenty-seven of the forty-eight states have provided their governors with some sort of an executive home, called in some states the executive mansion and in others the Governor's residence, Indiana's assembly has again turned down the proposition. With the economy fever at its height, this was probably an inopportune time to present such a measure. Committeemen found there was little sentiment in favor of Senator Zearing's bill to appropriate $85,000 for a Governor's residence, and it died in committee. Those against such a procedure pointed out that it would not be "truly democratic" for Indiana to build a magnificent residence for its Governor, while others were just as emphatic in saying that the Governor should not be forced to leave a comfortable home for four years and pay rent in Indianapolis. Senator Zearing, the former pointed out, is in the business of supplying contractors with machinery, materials supplies and tools.

Previous attempts to get a mansion or its equivalent for Indiana governors have been thwarted by the governors themselves. Governor Marshall frowned on a plan to pay his rent and Governor Ralston let it be known he would veto a bill to appropriate 75,000 for a Governor's residence if it came to him. This was in 1913 and the Governor said the condition of the state treasury at that time would not warrant such an expenditure. The Governor's message at the opening of this session stated that the condition of the state's finances was good and it is not known how he looks upon the Zearing bill.

The Zearing bill would appropriate 85,000 for the purpose either of buying a residence and remodeling it or of buying real estate and building a mansion. In either case the bill provides for the maintenance until 1917.

In this connection, some facts about other states and their executive mansions are interesting.

Of the four states adjoining Indiana, two of them have mansions for the Governor. These are Illinois and Kentucky. Kentucky was more lavish than Illinois in the original appropriation but appears parsimonious in comparison with the Sucker state when the maintenance is compared. Kentucky appropriated 93,000 in 1912 for the mansion and then raised the Governor's salary $1,500 to take care of the up-keep.

The state of Illinois went down into its pocket at various times for sums totaling $94,500 for the Governor's mansion, but the original appropriation was only $31,000.

Illinois upheld its reputation as a good spender, however, when it established the precedent of appropriating $15,000 annually for heat, light, public receptions, wages of employees etc., for the mansion. The appropriation bill did not state whether it was to include the delicious Havanas that Governor Dunne hands out. The Illinois mansion is one of the beauty spots of Springfield and is the most pretentious residence in the city. Its location is extremely desirable, being three blocks from the statehouse and one block from the hotel where most of the politicians hold forth. Twenty-seven of the forty-eight states are equipped with mansions of various descriptions and cost. Of the ten leading states, the following table shows what they have done in this regard:

State	Cost of Mansion	Cost of Up-keep	Dis. from Capitol
New York	$45,000	$4,000	2,600 feet
Penn.	11,000	Not specific	3 city squares
Illinois	31,000	15,000	3 city squares
Ohio	Has no mansion
Mass.	Has no mansion
Missouri	50,000	Not specific	250 yards
Michigan	Has no mansion
Indiana	Has no mansion
Wisconsin	20,000	Not specific	6 city squares
Iowa	Has no mansion

The states that lead in the amount appropriated for such mansions are Georgia with 100,000; Maryland with $250,000; North Carolina with $150,000 and Illinois with its total in improvements and original appropriation of $91,500. Maryland gives the Governor the handsome sum of $10,000 annually to maintain his mansion, while the Governor of North Carolina is left high and dry without state aid in taking care of his costly home.

GREAT ADMIRER OF WATSON

Anna M. Bowles of Milroy was ninety-four years of age today. Watson inaugurated as president of the United States makes her a very unusual woman of her age.

Mrs. Bowles has always been a great admirer of Former Congressman Watson. Each year on her birthday she has always announced that she expects to live to see James E. # HOW TO MAKE THE CHEAPEST AND BEST COUGH REMEDY AT HOME

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents' worth) make a full pint (16 ozs.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. It is altogether different from any other cough remedy. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as the druggist named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. ## IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

St. Louis at Chicago
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati

New York, Feb. 11.—In the foregoing fashion the National league clubs will get away from the pole in the annual pennant fight on Wednesday April 14. The schedule was announced yesterday. As usual the West splits fifty-fifty with the East in having openers—Chicago and Cincinnati seeing the lid pried off in the West and New York and Boston witnessing the festivities in the East. The season closes October 7.

Following the opening series, the clubs swap places, the Phillies coming to show the Giants their wares, the Dodgers going to engage the world's champion Braves, the Cards invading Cincinnati and the Pirates jumping to Chicago.

The Intersectional battles do not begin until May 11, when the Western clubs make their first invasion of the East. Until this date each club will play around its own backyard, as it were, before showing their tricks to their rivals across the Alleghenies.

The first western trip by the eastern clubs is scheduled to start June 4 and 5. The champion Braves will exhibit themselves for the first time to the Cincinnati fans, the Dodgers perform at Pittsburgh, the Giants go to Chicago and the Phillies serve four days at St. Louis. Each club will meet all the western teams before returning home for the double header on July 5—the glorious Fourth coming on Sunday.

The holiday schedule is as follows:

May 31—Philadelphia at Boston, morning and afternoon; Brooklyn at New York, morning and afternoon; Chicago at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at St. Louis, morning and afternoon.

July 5—Boston at Brooklyn, morning and afternoon; New York at Philadelphia, morning and afternoon; St. Louis at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at Chicago, morning and afternoon.

Sept. 6.—Boston at New York, morning and afternoon; Philadelphia at Brooklyn, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Chicago at St. Louis, morning and afternoon.

ENGLISH SIEZE CARGO

American Steamer Wilhelmina Will be Prize Court Subject.

(By United Press.)

Falmouth, Eng., Feb. 11.—The cargo of food-stuff on the American steamer Wilhelmina was formerly seized by the government today. Acting under instructions from the foreign office, the port official formally took possession of the steamer and ordered her cargo unloaded. A prize court will act soon. The owners of the cargo will enter the claim that it is not subject to seizure since it left the United States before any action had been taken by the German officials to seize food-stuffs.

SAYS U. S. NAVY IS NOT SMALL

Judge Witherspoon Declares That Experts Say it is the Greatest in World

AGAINST APPROPRIATION BILL

Does Not Believe European War Has Demonstrated Any Necessity for an Increase

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 11.—"The American people haven't any more of an idea of what a great navy they have than a lot of monkeys. I don't believe they know that the highest naval officers of the United States who appeared before the House naval affairs committee, declared that we have the greatest navy in the world, excepting that of England, and that we do not need the addition of fifty million dollars worth of ships this year to make it efficient. Instead of listening to these authorities the people read this bunk the naval agitators spread around."

That is what the leader of the "Little Navy" men in the House declared today. "People mistake the idea of 'Little navy,'" said Judge Witherspoon, of Mississippi the leader. "We don't believe in a little navy; we believe the navy the United States now has is adequate for defense purposes and we are opposed to building new ships every year just to give the big corporations more chance to graft."

Discussing the naval appropriation bill now before the House, with its building program of two battleships, 17 submarines and other war vessels, Rep. Witherspoon declared that the whole program "is a piece of inexcusable extravagance."

"According to the testimony of the best naval authorities in the United States," said Witherspoon, "submarines are the best insurance against hostile attacks. But they also declare that the United States already has an abundance of submarines and all that are necessary for our fleet. We have 59 at the present time. Now most people do not know what submarines are for. I didn't until Captain Sterling, commander of the submarine flotilla, told me. It is not the idea of naval strategists to have submarines at every port. Captain Sterling said all the United States needs is one for each battleship. Submarines, he said, must be used in a fleet to go out and attack approaching vessels before the dreadnaughts come up. It would be useless to have a few submarines scattered in all our harbors because in time of war the harbors can be mined against all hostile attacks."

Witherspoon does not believe the European war has demonstrated any necessity for an increase in our navy. He declared naval officers who appeared before the House naval affairs committee did not advocate an increase in our forces. He said the new ships are being "shoved" upon the navy department.

"The crowd of naval propagandists made such a howl through the newspapers about an inadequate navy that the House committee has mistaken this for public sentiment," said Witherspoon. "What the House committee voted is entirely unnecessary."

Witherspoon said that he and his "little navy" followers would all vote against the naval program but he added that anything the committee reported would be carried in the House.

If the European war lasts a year or two more, this southern congressman pointed out, the United States may have the largest navy in the world. He said England has lost 37 war vessels, so far. Germany 47 while the other belligerents have lost ships too. "If the United States builds more and more ships every year while the European powers lose more and more every year our navy will soon be the largest in the world. Then the world can point its finger of scorn at the United States for being militaristic."

Witherspoon said he firmly believed

ed that the only reason two battleships a year are built in the United States is that the work upon them is sufficient to keep the largest ship building corporations and the armament plants at work all the year 'round.

CLEVELAND FEARS THE "JITNEY BUS"

City and Railway Officials Fear it Means Elimination of Three Cent Car Fare

WAVE SWEEPING FROM WEST

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., Feb. 11.—Cleveland fears the "jitney bus."

Cleveland city officials and street railway officials alike are on record today against the new auto-bus competition to street cars because it means the elimination of Cleveland's well known three cent street car fare.

The city regulates the street cars. If the earnings of the Cleveland Railway company are over a stipulated amount, fares remain three cents. If they fall below, the fare reverts to five cents.

The popularity of the "jitney bus" sweeping East from the Pacific coast, already has invaded Ohio. Two plans to install the "jitnies" in Cincinnati are now being worked out. One promoter is said to have ordered fifty with the trailers. Cleveland, it is feared, is next. The congested street car traffic here which has already caused plans to be drawn for a subway system, would cut down the earnings of the railway company to such an extent that five cent fare would be a permanent infliction.

3 YEARS MORE OF IT
Mandan, N. D., Feb. 11.—That the present prosperity will be continued for three years, was the statement today by John Cloud, a wrinkled old Sioux Indian of the Standing Rock Reservation. He says that 1915, 1916, and 1917, will be wet years followed by three dry years. Local persons are inclined to put considerable credence in the predictions of the Indians.

The House the Red Jacket Saved

Read This Letter:
"Several years ago I called on Lane & Evans to buy a pump and they almost forced me to buy one of your Fig. 28 Red Jacket Double-Acting Force Pumps and fifty feet of hose when I only intended to buy a cheap set length pump. Mr. Lane put up such strong argument on 'fire protection' that I followed his advice and bought the Fig. 28, little thinking that it would be of any service to me in that respect. Shortly after the pump was installed, my barn caught fire and had it not been for this pump and hose and the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Barnett, my barn, house and all buildings on the place would have been destroyed."

WOULD CAUSE A DRASTIC CHANGE

Bill in Legislature Would Give Indiana Reformatory Right to do Public Printing.

IT IS TO AMEND ACT OF 1905

By Omitting One Clause, it Would Authorize Institution to Sell Surplus on Market.

A bill that has been introduced in the Indiana state senate in Indianapolis that is attracting more than the usual amount of attention is one which would, if passed, permit the Indiana Reformatory to print any books or blanks for the political divisions of the state, namely: state, county, township, city or town.

The change to be effected would be accomplished by omitting one clause of section three of the Indiana Reformatory act of 1905. This slight change would give extensive powers to the Reformatory in the matter of printing. It would not only give the Reformatory the privilege to do printing for the state, county, township, city or town, but authorizes the state institutions to sell any surplus stock upon the market.

The entire Bill as introduced is as follows: "A Bill for an Act to amend Section Three (3) of an act entitled 'An Act regulating the labor of the inmates of the Indiana Reformatory on State account, providing for the schooling and the training of the inmates, providing for trades schools, the utilization of the inmates' labor for State account and the disposition of all articles made in such trades state shall purchase certain articles from the management of the reformatory, and providing necessary appropriation as well as certain other matters relating thereto, and providing penalties therefor, approved March 4, 1905, and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That Section three (3) of the above entitled act be amended to read as follows:

Section 3. In the employment, education and training of the inmates of the reformatory the board of managers shall have full power to establish and introduce such trades schools as said board may determine for the training of the inmates in the mechanical arts, and to provide for the manufacture of goods on state account, for the production of such articles as are used in the institutions of the State and in certain political divisions of the State, and in the production of such articles as may be found practicable; Provided, That said reformatory shall not produce any school books and desks used by pupils for use, or which shall be used in the common schools of the State."

The proviso in the present laws reads as follows: "Provided, That said reformatory shall not produce any school books and desks used by pupils for use, or which shall be used in the common schools of the State, or print any other books or blanks except for the use of said reformatory."

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

"Dear Readers—For years I had suffered untold agonies with what was considered an incurable case of rheumatism. I had given every remedy I laid hands upon a fair trial and had doctor after doctor treat me, without even receiving as much as temporary relief.

At last, the new scientific prescription, Lloyd's kidney and rheumatism tablets, came to my notice. This preparation brought immediate relief and in two weeks I was absolutely cured. The cure has remained permanent, and I am very thankful.

Sufferers! Take my advice and get a few "Lloyd's Tablets" from your druggist today and be convinced of the curative qualities of this new prescription.

AVERAGE WAGE IS DETERMINED

Department of Agriculture Finds That Farmers Make to Value of $505 Each Year

438 FAMILIES INVESTIGATED

Suggestions Given Farmers How to Successfully Market by Means of Parcel Post

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Department of Agriculture, after investigating 438 families in ten different states in an effort to get a correct answer for the puzzling question, "How much does the average farmer make?" has reached the conclusion that the annual value of the food, fuel, oil and shelter enjoyed by the average farm family is $505. Whatever the farmer makes over this amount he puts in the bank or spends.

Of the $505, the farm furnished directly $429, leaving only $76 to be paid for with farm products or out of the money obtained from farm products. Food was, of course the principal item. This amounted to $401.93, of which $330.65, or 83.3 percent, was raised on the farm.

The investigators found that on the farm examined the average cost of maintaining each grown person was $176 a year, divided as follows: Dairy products.....$21.
Pork.....12.
Poultry and eggs.....12.
Garden.....10.
Beef.....6.
Fruit.....6.
Wood and coal.....13.
Groceries.....22.
House rent.....28.
Labor.....46.
Total.....$176.

Of this sum only about 28 percent was paid out in cash. The remainder was furnished by the farm, not in the form of money, but in those things for which the money would have been exchanged. On a certain area in North Carolina included in the scope of the investigation it was found that if it had not been for such articles as tea, coffee, sugar salt and other groceries impossible to produce at home, the farm would have been self-sustaining.

"The bulk of groceries are bought" said the investigators, "but the total quantity consumed depended to a great extent upon the quantity of animal products and vegetables raised on the farm. Where these abounded the consumption of groceries diminished. From this it would seem that an obvious way to effect an important saving in expenses is to raise more vegetables and animal products on the farm. Whether it is better to cut down expenses in this way or to increase receipts by concentrating attention on cash crops is one of the great problems in farm management, the answer to which in each individual case depends upon local conditions."

The Department of Agriculture has just issued these five suggestions to farmers on how to successfully conduct marketing by parcel post:

1. A start may be made with an acquaintance in town or city, or such town or city acquaintance may put the producer into touch with someone who desires to market by parcel post.

2. It is suggested that many towns and city physicians have many patients who need strictly fresh eggs regularly and by making inquiry of a number of city physicians arrangements doubtless could be made not only for the sale of eggs but for many other articles as well.

3. A small advertisement in a city paper might produce satisfactory results. A number of papers are making a specialty of a parcel post advertising column or section, which might be tried.

4. The Post Office Department has instructed the postmasters in a number of cities throughout the country to issue a list of producers, showing what each one has to offer for sale by parcel post, these lists being distributed free to patrons of the office. The cities in which this is now being done are: Athens, Ga., Atlanta, Austin, Tex., Baltimore, Birmingham, Ala., Boston, Brooklyn Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Galveston, Hartford, Conn., Indianapolis, La Crosse Wis., Lawrence, Mass., Los Angeles Louisville, Lynn, Mass., Nashville New Orleans, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., Providence, R. I., Richmond, Rock Island, Ill., St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, and Washington, D. C.

Producers who desire to develop marketing by parcel post on more than a small scale might find it desirable to go to the city, select the proper kind of a residential section, make a personal canvass and arrange for trial or sample shipments.

RIOTS IN POTATO MARKET REPORTED

Copenhagen Correspondent Says Crowds Stormed Municipal Shops in Berlin Yesterday

BREWERIES TO CUT OUTPUT

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 11.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company wired today that serious riots had taken place in the potato market in Berlin yesterday. The police were required to take stern measures to suppress the disorder. The municipal market was closed at 11 a. m. the correspondent said, because the supply was exhausted.

Fighting crowds stormed the shops demanding potatoes and shouting, "Where are we going to get potatoes?" The police finally restored order.

Orders have been issued to all of the breweries to reduce their output.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

Important to Everyone

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Rushville Daily Republican.

Patrick Henry a Tavern Keeper

Patrick Henry, whom Thomas Jefferson said "gave the impulse to the American revolution," assisted his father-in-law, John Shelton, in a tavern at Hanover, Va.

This tavern, like others of colonial times, sold light wines and manufactured malt liquors for its own trade.

During the three years (1760-1763) spent in the tavern, the young Henry learned much from the patriots assembled there to discuss the tyranny of the mother country.

A few years later the spirit of liberty kindled in that old Virginia tavern burst forth in Patrick Henry's fiery speech which inflamed the country.

Patrick Henry was a patriot but not a prohibitionist. An inventory of his estate shows that he manufactured liquors on two of his Virginia plantations.

Public Sale..

The Daily Republican

"The Newspaper Everybody in Rush County will Eventually Read"

To be a success must be well advertised. The more people who know of a sale the larger the crowd, resulting in more competitive bidding, higher prices for the stuff and more dollars in the holder's pocket. The Daily Republican goes into every town, community and neighborhood in Rush County, and has more paid subscribers than all the rest of the Rushville papers combined. Right now everybody is looking for and reading sale notices. They want to buy. The Republican's "Public Sales" advertisements tell them who is having a sale, when and where. Sale bills will always be used but their number is decreasing. Newspaper advertising is found to reach more people and when they are in a mood to read, and is getting more popular all the time. When a man holds a sale he expects to spend a few dollars in advertising it, but he wants results. Come in; we can "deliver the goods." "Red Head" sale bills and display spaces at a reasonable rate, and we give you prompt service.

Many New Designs Are Exhibited in Show Windows, Some of Them So-Called Comic Kind.

CHILDREN WILL CELEBRATE

St. Valentine's day is only a few days off, coming on Sunday, the 14th. There are many new picturesque designs in valentines this year, as shown by the assortment the dealers have on hand. There are also a goodly supply of the old kind of comic, or so-called comic, valentines, costing a penny to get them and probably a valued friend by sending them.

Make your own valentine is a new suggestion this year, and let it express something different from so-called wit and humor.

Valentine parties have been planned to precede or follow the day and many attractive and appropriate novelties are offered in connection with the celebration, this month, of Lincoln's birthday on the 12th and Washington's birthday on the 22d.

DECISIVE VOTE EXPECTED SOON

Likely No Opposition Will Develop Against Direct Primary Bill Until Third Reading.

JUST WHERE TAGGART STANDS

Majority Report Favors Passage of Measure—Some Hold it is Not a Party Measure.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—John B. Jones expects a vote on his state wide, direct primary measure today or tomorrow. He consulted with Speaker Bedwell about the matter this morning, asking that he be allowed to pick the time when the measure is handed down for second reading. Jones would not comment on the chances of his bill, saying that things had been happening pretty fast in the past few days.

The vote will come on the question to substitute the minority for the majority report. The majority favors the bill.

Following the principle laid down to it half a dozen times by Rep. Niblack of Vincennes, the house is expected to pass the bill on to third reading and full discussion. Niblack has interposed several times, notably in the second-class-gary bill, to prevent killing bills on second reading.

With a poll of the house practically impossible under the year's rules, newspapermen have been forced to content themselves with getting isolated opinions on important measures. The two floor leaders of the house were asked concerning the primary bill.

Rep. Eschbach, Republican floor leader, said he had no idea how the Republicans would vote on the primary measure. He said they had not caucused on it, and for that matter would not caucus on anything if it could be avoided.

"As for myself, I shall vote for the bill," said Eschbach.

Other Republicans seemed more inclined to consider this as a party measure since the state wide primary is unequivocally endorsed in the Democratic platform.

Democratic Floor Leader Brannaman, who is known to be firmly opposed to the primary as it is found in the Jones bill, said he probably would speak against the measure. He would make no prediction.

The attitude of Thomas Taggart has been interested. His statement of yesterday afternoon was considered by friends of the primary to be unfavorable to the Jones bill, in that it favored a plan by which the opinion might be obtained for or against the primary.

Jones said today that the opinion of the people already had been voiced, and that apparently Mr. Taggart was in favor of the Osborn bill which is simply a referendum measure.

Whether the determined stand of Secretary Bryan for the statewide primary will have any effect on the vote is still problematical.

The house committee on election submitted a divided report on the Jones bill yesterday. The majority report, which favors the passage of the bill, was signed by five Democrats, Representatives Kemp, Dragoo, Griffith, Eray, Dibble and one Republican, Representative Yoho.

The minority report, which favors the indefinite postponement of the bill, was signed by three Republicans—Representatives Scott, Foster and Southard—and one Democrat, Nichols. Representative Kinder, a Democrat, was not present when the committee passed upon the bill.

The Jones bill, members of the committee say, is not a party platform measure for the reason that one section in the bill does not conform to the recommendations of the Democratic state platform. This section provides that the state platform shall be prepared and promulgated by a convention of successful candidates for nominations after the primary, while the platform provides that the state platform shall be adopted by a convention of delegates from through-

WANTS HIS BILL RECONSIDERED

McCormick Busy Trying to Find Some Friend of Measure to Abolish Capital Punishment.

HOUSE KILLS IT OUTRIGHT

Father of Bill "Braces" Speaker For Handing it Down When Its Friends Were Absent.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Senator McCormick, father of the Bill abolishing capital punishment, which passed the senate and then was summarily executed in the house late yesterday when its enacting clause was stricken off, was busy today trying to find some one who voted for the motion to kill the bill who would be willing to reconsider the motion. His task appeared difficult.

Parliamentary rule requires that in order to reconsider a motion, some member who voted for the motion must move reconsideration. Ordinarily when a motion is about to be lost, some friend of the measure being defeated changes his vote to aye. He can then move reconsideration.

But friends of McCormick bill were caught asleep. Speaker Bedwell handed down the bill before it was expected. None of its friends understood it was receiving its death blow until the vote was announced. None of the friends of the bill was quick witted enough to change his vote, and it was considered doubtful whether enemies of the bill, who were well organized, would permit one of their number to move reconsideration.

McCormick was notified and rushed into the house chamber after it was all over. He vowed he would have the bill reconsidered. The speaker walked by and McCormick "braced" him on the matter of handing down the bill before its friends were ready.

out the state prior to the primary election. In this respect alone, it is said, the Jones bill is not in accordance with the platform recommendations.

Both Sides Along Northern Battle Line Bombarded From Air

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 11.—Bombardment of positions from aeroplanes was reported today by both sides all along the battle line in the north. This modern method of warfare has been resorted to to aid the artillery duels which continue uninterrupted. Both sides are using their full artillery strength and many of the villages behind the fighting line are suffering greatly.

TILLAGE WILL HELP

Roll the wheatfield as soon as it will bear a team upon it. Follow this rolling immediately with a light harrowing. Better use a "weeder" if you have one. If you have a harrow with adjustable teeth, throw the teeth back at an angle of 45 degrees and harrow the field, going back and forth parallel with the wheat rows. This harrowing will not injure the wheat roots, but will break up the crust and make a surface mulch. This surface mulch will prevent much evaporation and save thousands of barrels of water. If you do not happen to have a roller, or if you do not think it wise to roll the wheat, harrow just the same. It pays.

Plantfood Makes Crops

The tiny wheat plant must have special nourishment. It must have a liberal supply of readily available plant-food of the right kind to maintain it in vigorous growth. Big crops demand enormous quantities of plant-food. The biggest help you can give your wheat crop is to apply 100 pounds per acre of Swift's Steamed Bone and Potash, analyzing 2 per cent Ammonia, 8 per cent available Phosphoric Acid, and 2 per cent Potash. This should be broadcasted or distributed on the wheat through the fertilizer attachment of the wheat drill, with the lime spreader, or other fertilizer distributor. If the wheat drill is used, leave the discs suspended so that they will not cut the wheat plants. Apply this fertilizer before the field is rolled. Harrowing it will work it into the soil where the roots make best use of the plant-food. You can carry on these operations until the wheat is up 4 inches in height without injury to the crop. Fertilizer feeds the crop. It contains no weed seeds.

Help For Grass and Clover Seedling

By such treatment, weak wheat will be greatly benefitted and materially assisted towards a profitable yield of superior quality of grain. Top dressing pays. Try it on your Oats and double the yield.

CORRESPONDENT
HELD PRISONER

Writes of Dunkirk, Where German
Aeroplane Bombs Are Causing
Funerals Almost Daily.

LIGHTS PUT OUT AT NIGHT

During Day City Goes About Its
Business as Usual But it Dreads
The Nights.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Dunkirk, France, Jan. 28.—(By mail to New York)—Dunkirk is for-bidden ground, and I am under arrest in a hotel as I write this.

My jailer has orders to take me down to the train at noon and start me off for Calais. His name is Theodore Hoorens, and Seattle is his home, though he came over here for the war, and was assigned to the secret service of the French army. At this blessed moment, his wife is in Deadwood, South Dakota, and Hoorens wants her to have a copy of this story addressed to her, in care of General Delivery. He's glad to be a jailer for an American. In fact, I think I should have spent last night in jail, where two English newspaper men are languishing, had not Hoorens told the chief of the secret service that he would vouch for my not running away.

But, friendly as he is, Hoorens has to escort me to the train and put me on it.

Hoorens has his own troubles,
too. "I'm worried about my father," said Hoorens. "He lives in Armentieres, and he's 83 years old. The roof of the old home there was blown off by a German shell, and he had to get out. He went to live with neighbors and their house was unroofed and so dad moved from there, to a cellar in the house of another friend, but I can't get him to move from the town. He says he's lived there all his life and that no Germans can drive him out."

Last evening, before the secret service men got me, I had a chance to look over this much be-bombed town. In the past three weeks, three sets of funerals have passed through its streets. Dunkirk burying its dead victims of German aeroplanes.
Only this morning seven caskets, bearing the corpses of children who were killed when a flock of twenty-four German flying machines passed over Dunkirk, were carried through the streets in hearses. Count Litch-tervelde, of the Belgian war office, who saw the funeral, told me it was the saddest thing he had seen in all the war.

Dunkirk goes about its business, as usual, until nightfall. Then it closes its shutters and stays indoors, and at nine o'clock out goes every light, in every house and every hotel.

"To my citizens," read a public letter which the mayor has posted throughout the town. "You are brave, I know, but nevertheless, aeroplanes are flying over our city, and I beg you to go to the cellars at the first sound of the warning signal from the toosin. It is brave to risk one's life when some benefit is to be gained, but it is folly and not bravery, to put one's life in jeopardy out of sheer thoughtlessness or bravado. Therefore, go to your cellars when the alarm is first "given."

The extraordinary thing about this warning, is that no one obeys it.
The other night, Dunkirk was shelled for a fourth time. Eighty bombs were dropped, and there were five more funerals, and the crowded hospitals became more crowded, for there were fifty more wounded to care for.

The good folk of Dunkirk will not go to their cellars. The sight is too wonderful to miss. At one time they saw four French aeroplanes chase seven German planes through the sky; and who would stay in a cellar while a show like that was going on? The second time, sixteen German aeroplanes hovered over the town, and the Dunkirkians rushed to the streets to watch for another sky battle. Sure enough, six French and three English planes rushed into the skies toward the Germans,

Regional Bank System Criticised
by Farmer as Money Tieup Plan

The man who indicted the best indictment of the Wilson administration federal reserve bank system in the Indianapolis Star simply signed himself "Farmer," but he exhibited rare knowledge of the federal law and expressed the some sentiment that has been running in the heads of many bankers in the following:

I notice large headlines in the papers stating that the "officers of the regional bank system had made an optimistic report."

These officers were optimistic, but in this report they were very careful not to give any facts or figures so that some other people might also be optimistic.

The fact is that the "system" thus far has been a rank failure and there are no prospects of it ever being a success.

The more one studies it the more he becomes convinced that the main purpose is to give a lot of men who are in favor with the administration fat jobs in banking institutions in which they have no financial interests—banks that were capitalized by the national banks of the country not voluntarily, but under compulsion by the government, under threat of having their charters declared void.

Do the bankers like it? They have to say they do, and smile when they say it, for if they do not they lay themselves liable to criticism by the national banking department, as now constituted and criticism affects the standing of the banks, and a bank without any standing can do no business.

Few people know just how the Federal reserve banks are organized or conducted.

First, every national bank was compelled under the law to take stock equal to 6 per cent of its capital and surplus. Upon this it may, if the reserve banks make it, get a dividend of not more than 6 per cent per annum; in fact it may get no dividend, but be assessed to pay the running expenses of the regional banks.

The member banks must keep five-twelfths of their reserve funds in the regional reserve banks in the district in which such member banks are located, and upon these funds the member banks get no interest or other income—it is all dead money.
The member banks, however, if they put up the proper collateral, are allowed to borrow of the regional banks, at the bank rate of interest, this dead money mentioned, or rather get circulating notes issued by the regional bank.

One of the troubles that the member banks have in getting this dead money, or its equivalent of the regional bank is that there is not a country bank that carries 5 per cent of the kind of paper required by the reserve bank as collateral, and the banks of such cities as Indianapolis do not carry 10 per cent of their loans of such paper, I am informed.
The result is that the country banks can do no business with the reserve banks and the city banks can do very little business with them.

As regards the success of the regional reserve bank at San Francisco, one of the papers there has the following to say:

"We note the early activity of one of the reserve banks. It is hardly a type to characterize the bank as a money-maker.

"Press advices state that up to Dec. 12 the bank, with a clerical force of seventy-five employed, contracted less than $30,000 worth of loans, which, on a 6 per cent, sixty day basis, would represent an income of $150 a month for two months. With a governor's salary of $20,000 per annum as announced you may wonder if there will be any dividends."

The question is, where is all the money, to come from to pay salaries clerk hires, rent, fuel, lights, supplies and other expenses of running these reserve banks? The answer is the member banks (the national banks of the country), which, as stated, are liable to assessments for that purpose.

It is said that the governor of our reserve bank at Chicago gets $30,- 000 per annum, the regional office, $16,000 and the assistant regional officer $8,000. An army of men is employed, magnificent quarters provided, gorgeously furnished and equipped, immense vaults, banking supplies and paraphernalia to suit.

The members of the national reserve board draw $12,000 a year each—twelve of them and expenses.

The members of the regional banks must meet at least four times a year at Washington. They draw their expenses and salaries to be fixed by the regional board. Add all the salaries and expenses of the various boards and the officers of these banks and the general running expenses and you would find a sum that would stagger a "Wallingford."
J. Rufus would turn green with envy.

The general public under the law,
can do no business with these banks, the country banks having practically no "commodity notes" and the city banks very little of this kind of paper. Where is the regional bank to get any business.

Remember that the common run of notes made by merchants and farmers can not be used by member banks to borrow money out of a regional bank. The notes must be given for a "commodity" payable in a fixed, limited time, and must be paid at maturity.

The truth is that the regional banks have millions locked up in their vaults, that is doing no one any good—it is absolutely "dead money."

The last report of the reserve banks that I have noticed, published with other bank reports, showed that the national banks had paid in to the regional banks the sum of $302,623,000. Of this amount, there had been $13,062,000 and circulating notes issued to the amount of $1,913,000, issued against collateral. This leaves a balance in the regional banks of about $290,000,- 000—dead money—money that ought to be working. This vast sum has been taken from the channels of trade. And this is not all. The banks of the country have only paid one installment of 16 2/3 per cent.
on the amount of the capital they must take in the regional banks and 40 per cent. of the amount of the reserve funds they must pay in as called for. When it is all paid in, which must be in a short time, there will be about $1,060,000,000 withdrawn from the national banks and placed in the regional banks, instead of being loaned to the business concerns of the country.

Well may the people say "money is scarce and hard to get." This vast reserve fund is not only taken out of circulation, but the banks, the real owners of it, get no income from it whatever.

It has been said by some that it should make no difference where a bank kept its reserve, and it might as well be in the regional reserve bank as elsewhere, but such is not the case. Little banks must keep money in the big banks in order that drafts may be honored and that collections may be made. A bank in Indianapolis must keep just as much money in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia as it ever did and the country banks must keep just as much money in Indianapolis, Cincinnati and St. Louis as they ever did.
Regional banks can not be used in general commercial transaction.
Therefore, the money placed in a regional bank might as well be put in a safety deposit box or in a stocking leg, so far as using it in business is concerned.

Business men of all times have been mistaken, it seems, in thinking that a business enterprise is most successful when managed by those financially interested in it. No one connected with the regional banks has any interest in them, except to draw salaries. The position of every officer in the bank and in the regional board depends on the result of the national elections.

W. J. Bryan was on to his job when he wrote to his friend in San Domingo to look out for "positions for worthy Democrats and let him know." He was likewise on his job when he assisted in building up the regional bank scheme. It has supplied the fattest jobs and juiciest plums that ever have been given out by any administration.

Kern, Owen & Co., doing business in the United States Senate, never knew anything about banks—national, state or grave, they all looked alike to them—but when it comes to making places for the "worthy" of the Wilson-Bryan school they are adept. It is the greatest political financial institution that was ever constructed, on some other fellow's money. The old individual "sand-bagger" is a back number.

But what's the difference? Every stockholder in a national bank belongs to the interests." It may be a widow or an orphan, a small farmer, a drummer or a laboring man who invests his savings in a way that he does not have to give it his personal attention, or it may be even a man of means, but what of it?
What rights have any of these people to consider, when it comes up to the job hunter, when making places for his political friends?

I have never been a pessimist or claimed to be a prophet, but if there are not some radical changes in the regional reserve bank laws, we will have an explosion some of these days that the "South Sea Bubble" and the "Credit Mobilier" will be as nothing compared to it.

PROSPECTS OF FAIR ARE FINE

special attractions are expected.

The night fair, which was given a trial last year, will be held again this year. The people showed last year that they patronize a night fair and the management is convinced that with a good program for the nights they can attract many people to the grounds. One difficulty that hindered the night fair at its initiation here was the lack of sufficient light. There was enough electricity but the wires to carry the electricity were not large enough and the lamps gave a dim glow so that it was hardly possible to get around over the grounds.

This will be corrected this year, and the management is laying plans to make the night fair a most attractive event. It is announced that fireworks for two nights during the week has been contracted for even this early in the year and the management is figuring on other night attractions.

It is realized now—and it was at the close of last year's fair for that matter—that the fireworks display was given too early in the evening last year. Many persons who were on the grounds missed the display, not knowing that it was to be given so early. Many others who had planned to attend the fair that night found that the display had been given before they arrived.

J. Q. Thomas says that concessions are being sold earlier this year than he ever knew of before, which, he believes, is the sign of a healthy condition. The fair came out with a little money ahead last year, the first time it has in many years and this thing alone has aroused the county fair workers to renewed activity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy and son, Otto, have moved from this city

PROSPECTS FOR FAIR ARE FINE

Concessions Are Being Taken
Earlier Than Ever Before and
Management is Energetic

NIGHT FAIR AGAIN THIS YEAR

Another Meeting of Fair Board Will be Held Saturday to Arrange
Speed Program

Whenever a crowd of Rush county fair boosters get together nowadays the talk naturally turns to the annual county fair and the excellent prospects it enjoys this year. The meeting of the fair board this week was the medium for exchange of ideas and a discussion of prospects. Another meeting of the board will be held Saturday at which time the speed program will be arranged.

The fact that there will be four five hundred dollar stake races on the program is expected to add much to the racing at the fair. Of course, the stake races will not be held unless they fill but there is every reason to believe that they will fill this year because similar events will be on all of the fairs in the south-eastern Indiana association, which will be a continuous circuit.

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the fair, is authority for the statement that there will be running races on the speed program this year, in addition to the usual program of trots and paces. It has been many years since a running race has been seen on the local race track so that it is likely these events will be great attractions.

The fair board is also going to see to it that there is a fox chase this year. The board has already appointed J. H. Pike a committee of one to get a fox for that chase. One was advertised for last year but it did not materialize. The fair management had a fox engaged but a short time before the fair it escaped.

It has been announced that W. S. Oneal has been appointed superintendent of the special attractions. The participation of Mr. Oneal in the fair management will, it is believed, greatly enliven this feature of the fair and some very unique

Shortly after she paid the costs this morning in her divorce suit and legally obtained a divorce, which was granted January 18, Mrs. Mary M. Wolfe was married to Francis M. The divorce was granted Mrs. Wolfe almost a month ago but the costs in the case were never paid until this morning and just in time to get married the second time. Mr. Brown appeared in the clerk's office with his bride-to-be and attorney when the costs were paid and immediately applied for a marriage license.

COURT ADJOURNED TO ATTEND FUNERAL

SAVES THIS CITY A HEAVY EXPENSE

Legislature Makes Bill Providing
Sewage Not be Dumped Into Streams Apply to Indianapolis.

THIS IS A REGULAR BUGABOO

Had Measure as Introduced Become Law Sewage Disposal Plant
Would Have Been Necessary.

Attention has been called to the fact that the state legislature saved Rushville and all other cities in the state, for that matter, a whole lot of trouble and a heavy expense when it killed the amendment to the Deck bill providing that no city in the state should dump its sewage into a stream.

The legislature voted to make the measure apply to Indianapolis only and thus disposed of this bugaboo for another period of two years. This is a measure that recurs every two years but has always failed to pass. It is advocated by its friends that it will eventually become a law in Indiana.

This sort of a law would work a great hardship on the taxpayers, especially those in cities the size of Rushville because a sewage disposal plant would be very costly and would increase the tax burden. It is held by advocates of the bill that dumping sewage into streams is unsanitary.

It was expected that the state senate committee on judiciary B would report favorably today on the house bill giving civil war veterans the right to hunt and fish without a license. This is the bill which was introduced in the house by Representative W. R. Jinnett of this county and was passed by the house.

Much amusement has been afforded by the bill which provides that lazy men who refuse to support their families shall be compelled to work on the streets. The measure required that the family of the lazy men be given two dollars a day for their services, but the senate committee will report favorably on the bill will also recommend that the sum be paid the lazy husband shall be one dollar a day instead of two.

A bill that has caused some comment here in Rushville is that one designed to take the judiciary out of politics. It would eliminate the party in voting on judicial candidates. The senate committee will report favorably on the bill, it was stated in the Indianapolis Star this morning.

STILL IN SESSION.

The grand jury was again busy today examining a large number of witnesses. Several women and children were before the jury this afternoon, but the nature of the cases under investigation could not be learned. The case involving a large number of witnesses from the western part of the city was completed this morning, some of the witnesses waiting two days before being able to get before the investigating body.

ORDERS BANKS TO STOP PRACTICE

Comptroller of Currency Sends Circular Letter to all National
Financial Institutions

COPIES ARE RECEIVED HERE

Official Orders Bank Directors to Adopt Resolutions For-
bidding Overdrafts.

The national banks here have received circular letters which have been sent out from Washington by the comptroller of the currency calling attention to the fact that bankers should not allow any overdrafts. The letter is very plain spoken and sets out a definite course for national banks.

It is said to be a bit distasteful to bankers to have to follow this rule when there may be many times when a large depositor unwittingly writes a check that overdraws a few cents or few dollars on his account. In such a case, under this ruling, the bankers would have to refuse to pay the check of a large depositor no matter if the banker were absolutely certain that the overdraft would be forthcoming the instant the depositor was informed of it.

The letter is addressed to the board of directors and instructs them to draw up resolutions as follows:

"The granting by some banks of accommodations in the form of overdrafts is objectionable and can not be countenanced by this office.

"You are requested to adopt a resolution directing that no officer or employee of your bank shall pay or charge to the account of any depositor any check of such depositor when there are not sufficient funds on deposit to the credit of the drawer of the check to meet the same.

"Please forward a certified copy of the resolution to this office as soon as it has been adopted. Let the resolution show the names of the directors present at the meeting."

Centerville Blaze Starts in Old Court
House Building.

(By United Press.)
Richmond, Ind., Feb. 11.—Fire early today destroyed $26,000 worth of property in the town of Centerville, six miles west of Richmond. The fire had its origin in one of the stores in what is known as the old court house building. This structure was the county seat of Wayne half a century ago and was one of the historic structures of eastern Indiana. Richmond sent a chemical wagon and fireman to aid. The fire may be investigated as some believe it was on incendiary.

EFFORT MADE TO DISCIPLINE HIM

Senator Ballou Says Zearing Was Going to Chastise Him For Opposing Mayor Bell's Bill.

POOL SELLING BILL PASSES

Senate Votes by Overwhelming Majority to Allow Betting on Races at County Fairs.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The Hirsch racing bill which is the pet measure of every county fair association in the state passed the senate today, 26 to 10. There was no opposition. No one appeared to listen to Senator Hirsch's speech, the only one made on the bill, which he read from manuscript.

The bill which goes to the house would allow gambling on the races by the Par-mutual system which Hirsch declared was harmless.

LaPorte and Porter counties were especially interested. Among those who voted for the bill was Edward C. Eklund, representing Rush, Fayette and Hancock counties.

Senator Ballou charged today that an attempt had been made to discipline him because he voted against the Mayor Bell finance bill for Indianapolis. He named Senator Zearing.

Ballou's charge was sensational and the senate was for the moment dumbfounded. He walked slowly to the front of the chamber and with a voice trembling with emotion charged that Zearing had declared in public places that he would move to reconsider Ballou's drainage bill in order to discipline Ballou. Both men are Democrats.

Zearing did not reply to Ballou's charge and his motion to reconsider was lost, with only Zearing voting for it.

"I have respect for all the senators from Marion except for the one who introduced this motion and for him I have none," said Ballou.

The Sare bill provided that no new state banks may be organized unless a state charter board signs that there is need for a new bank in the community passed the house today, 63 to 21. Representative Benz opposed the bill saying it would enable existing banks to shut out competition.

FAIR HERE OPPOSED.

The board of directors of the Rush County Fair association went on record at its meeting Tuesday as being opposed to the Hirsch bill which would legalize gambling at the county fair race tracks. The board protested against it to the senator and representative from this county.

Don't be Fooled With Substitutes

Where you ask for an article you saw advertised in this newspaper, insist on getting what you ask for.

If the dealer offers something "just as good" you have a right to view him with suspicion.

The advertised article has behind it a definite name.

It is backed by a reputable maker. Its pedigree is assured.

The substitute has only the dealer's word to recommend it and selling it means more profit to him.

Offering things "just as good" is a practice not tolerated by reputable dealers.

HERE'S MAN WHO CAN KNIT PAIR OF SOCKS ON TRIP FROM ANDERSON TO RUSHVILLE

Charley Manville, Big Four Conductor, Today Relates Funny Experience he Had on Train.

VERY UNUSUAL, YES IT'S TRUE

Charley Manville of Anderson, conductor on this division of the Big Four, had a good one—the kind that was so new that it sparkled—when the southbound passenger pulled in here this morning. Ordinarily Conductor Manville is a very somber fellow, not much given to fun making, but when he saw an old German—a man, you understand—pull out a knitting "kit" after he boarded the Big Four passenger at Anderson yesterday morning, and devote himself diligently to his knitting all the way to Rushville, the conductor had to laugh—he just couldn't help it. And this morning he was still smiling as he repeated the circumstances. "It's not an unusual thing," related the conductor, "for women to knit on the train. Very frequently, when they get on for a short ride between small towns, they spend their time knitting. I am accustomed to that. But a German, that is the limit."

Herr Knitter knit dexteriously, the conductor explained. Proof of this lies in the fact that during the trip from Anderson to Rushville, where he got off, he knit one pair of socks.

Conductor Manville speculated at some length how that German happened to be knitting. It might be, of course, that Herr Knitter was working for the war sufferers of Europe. Or, he may spend his spare time knitting for the pure joy of the knitting—imagine it! Again, he may be a deluded bachelor who has never found the right one and has to get down to his own knitting.

But, enough's enough. If you see a German citizen wandering the streets of Rushville knitting a pair of socks, you undoubtedly have seen the gentleman in question.

London, Feb. 11.—In the house of commons this afternoon Premier Asquith announced the British government was considering drastic measures to paralyze all German commerce. He said that the recent "flagrant breaches of the rules of international warfare" made such steps necessary. While it is not disclosed what action is contemplated at this time, it is understood that the suggested "submarine blockade" by Germany may be followed by an actual blockade of all the German coast by the British fleet.

In the house of commons this evening Premier Asquith declined to back a maximum price movement or to have the government take over the business of marketing food-stuff.

London, Feb. 11.—The allies see no likelihood of an opening that would lead towards peace at this time. This was emphasized in the house of commons this afternoon by Sir Edward Grey.

BREATHE FRESH AIR AND YOU'LL BE HEALTHY.

Breathe all the fresh air you can get, night and day. That's what fresh air is for. The fearsome legend about the baleful influences of "night air" is only another of the carefully nursed insanitary bequests from our ancestors, according to Senior Surgeon Banks, of the United States Public Health Service.

Whence this superstition arose may only be surmised. Perhaps it is a survival of the primeval cult of Sun worship, which led the ancient to classify anything outside the sphere of solar influence. Our forebears were wont to caution their offspring to "be careful about the night air" or children were ordered to "come in out of the night air." It is perhaps fortunate for the children living in the arctic circle, where the nights are six months long, that the esquimaux mothers do not entertain this crude notion about night air, else their progeny would spend half the year indoors.

This idea is generally prevalent and even one of our well-known flowers is loaded down with the horrible name of "Deadly Nightshade" as a sort of verbal relief of this old notion. The low-lying mist or fog that sometimes gathers about the surface of the earth under certain atmospheric condition, after sunset, was held, is held, to be "miasmatic" and pregnant with lethal possibilities. This is worthy of all the respect that should be put to any heavy superstition, but it's place is in the specimen jars of an archaeological museum, not in the show room of modern intelligent life.

The night air, minus the sun, is as different from the atmosphere of a sunless day. The atmospheric envelope of the earth does not change from benign to malign in the twinkling of an eye after sundown. It is still composed of oxygen, nitrogen, argon and carbon dioxide in the normal proportions for the given locality. The open air treatment of tuberculosis and its kindred allies had first to combat this venerable jargon about the deadliness of night air, and only the remarkable results of this hygienic aid to its cure brought the superstitious to a realization of the silliness of their ingrained nouthophobia.

This generation has witnessed the emancipation of human beings in respect to the value of fresh air, whether in bulk or in smaller "drafts." From being a people immersed in hermetically sealed rooms at night, breathing our own bodily exhalations over and over again, a constantly increasing number of persons are sleeping in the open or at least with open windows, summer and winter, to their great benefit. In the morning they are refreshed with the pure oxygen of the air breathed during sleep, not "stewed" nor "seedy" after eight hours spent in respiring and re-respiring second-hand and shop-worn air in a closed bedroom.

A story from the trenches in France is that a soldier wrote home to his wife to open her windows at night as he had found that the night air "didn't hurt one bit." That is the experience of all the advocates of this sensible custom—once tried the old custom of sealing one's self in an airtight bedroom is never renewed. Diseases which involve the lungs can usually be traced to their beginning in poorly ventilated sleeping apartments, inside rooms that do not have a share of the atmosphere. Nothing can live well long without oxygen in the air, and it was given to us for breathing, night and day, not to be taken in sparingly, as if it were a dangerous potion. Some people are actually afraid of ordinary, common air.

Those emancipated persons who open their windows at night will tell you, unanimously, that they cannot breathe in a chamber unless the window is raised, their sense of comfort and vigor demands the life giving qualities of fresh air. No greater prophylactic advice can be promulgated than to breathe all the fresh atmospheric air you can get, night and day.

—Walter Hall was among the passengers this morning to Indianapolis, and will see the Follies tonight at the English Opera House.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Cancer Not Definite Disease

People commonly think of cancer as a single definite disease, as distinct and uniform in its nature and symptoms as appendicitis or typhoid fever, but that idea is erroneous and one that the Journal of the American Medical association is trying to correct. The Journal says this is a misconception. It says it is nearer the truth to regard "cancer" as the name of a group of quite different diseases which have one feature in common. It has been said that the layman's conception of cancer is of something very indefinite, very portentous, quite hopeless, a disease which always affects someone else than himself, and about which he carries no immediate interest or responsibility. If this is a fair statement, the layman is wrong on practically every count, and his error and confusion is probably due, in no small part, to the failure to take account of the many forms of cancer. If this were done perhaps the patient would not so frequently yield to despair and throw away the excellent chance of cure that exists when the disease is first discovered.

As a matter of fact, "cancer," in the light of modern knowledge of human ailments, is almost as general and vague a term as "fever." The word covers a number of entirely distinct diseases, differing widely in their origin, symptoms, treatment and curability. The various kinds of tumors have little in common except that they are all forms of new and lawless growth of body cells.

This false notion of cancer as a single disease has probably hindered progress toward the understanding and control of the various diseases which are conveniently grouped under that term. All forms of cancer are aspects of new and lawless cell growth, and it is the inner nature or "cause" of such growth that we do not yet understand.

The essential point for the man in that each different kind of cancer is a separate disease. If he is so unlucky as to be attacked by any one of them, it would be well before becoming discouraged to go and find out which form he has. If he is taken with a "fever" and it happens to be German measles, his outlook on life is quite different than if it chances to be virulent small-pox. So, also, a "rodent ulcer" on the face is quite different from cancer of the stomach. And lastly while one is a more serious disease than the other, there is always hope if it is recognized and treated at once. Why not give the surgeon the same chance with cancer as he has with appendicitis? Suppose all symptoms of that disease were neglected and hidden until the appendix had burst? Doubtless the surgeon would still save a certain percentage of cases, but would the record be anything like it is now? It is the intelligent cooperation of the patient and the family physician that has conquered appendicitis, and the same weapons are even more needed in the fight against cancer.

GOVERNOR NOT TO GET MANSION

Economy Fever Hits Legislature and Proposition For Executive Home is Turned Down.

LITTLE SENTIMENT IN FAVOR

Majority Believed That it Was Inopportune Time to Start Move —Other States in Line.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Although twenty-seven of the forty-eight states have provided their governors with some sort of an executive home, called in some states the executive mansion and in others the Governor's residence, Indiana's assembly has again turned down the proposition. With the economy fever at its height, this was probably an inopportune time to present such a measure. Committee men found there was little sentiment in favor of Senator Zearing's bill to appropriate $85,000 for a Governor's residence, and it died in committee. Those against such a procedure pointed out that it would not be "truly democratic" for Indiana to build a magnificent residence for its Governor, while others were just as emphatic in saying that the Governor should not be forced to leave a comfortable home for four years and pay rent in Indianapolis. Senator Zearing, the former pointed out, is in the business of supplying contractors with machinery, materials supplies and tools.

Previous attempts to get a mansion or its equivalent for Indiana governors have been thwarted by the governors themselves. Governor Marshall frowned on a plan to pay his rent and Governor Ralston let it be known he would veto a bill to appropriate $75,000 for a Governor's residence if it came to him. This was in 1913 and the Governor said the condition of the state treasury at that time would not warrant such an expenditure. The Governor's message at the opening of this session stated that the condition of the state's finances was good and it is not known how he looks upon the Zearing bill.

The Zearing bill would appropriate $85,000 for the purpose either of buying a residence and remodeling it or of buying real estate and building a mansion. In either case the bill provides for the maintenance until 1917.

In this connection, some facts about other states and their executive mansions are interesting.

Of the four states adjoining Indiana, two of them have mansions for the Governor. These are Illinois and Kentucky. Kentucky was more lavish than Illinois in the original appropriation but appears parsimonious in comparison with the Sucker state when the maintenance is compared. Kentucky appropriated $31,000 in 1912 for the mansion and then raised the Governor's salary $1,500 to take care of the up-keep. The state of Illinois went down into its pocket at various times for sums totaling $94,500 for the Governor's mansion, but the original appropriation was only $31,000.

Illinois upheld its reputation as a good spending, however, when it established the precedent of appropriating $15,000 annually for heat, light, public receptions, wages of employees etc., for the mansion. The appropriation bill did not state whether it was to include the delicious Havanas that Governor Dunne hands out. The Illinois mansion is one of the beauty spots of Springfield and is the most pretentious residence in the city. Its location is extremely desirable, being three blocks from the statehouse and one block from the hotel where most of the politicians hold forth. Twenty-seven of the forty-eight states are equipped with mansions of various descriptions and cost. Of the ten leading states, the following table shows what they have done in this regard:

State	Cost of Mansion	Appro. for Up-keep	Dis. from Capitol
New York	$45,000	$4,000	2,600 feet
Penn.	11,000	Not specific	3 city squares
Illinois	31,000	15,000
Ohio	Has no mansion
Mass.	Has no mansion
Missouri	60,000	Not specific	250 yards
Michigan	Has no mansion
Indiana	Has no mansion
Wisconsin	25,000	Not specific	6 city squares
Iowa	Has no mansion

The states that lead in the amount appropriated for such mansions are Georgia with 100,000; Maryland with $250,000; North Carolina with $150,000 and Illinois with its total in improvements and original appropriation of $91,500. Maryland gives the Governor the handsome sum of $10,000 annually to maintain his mansion, while the Governor of North Carolina is left high and dry without state aid in taking care of his costly home.

GREAT ADMIRER OF WATSON

Anna M. Bowles of Milroy was ninety-four years of age today. There is nothing especially unusual about that because quite a few people attain that age, but the fact that Mrs. Bowles is now planning a trip to the Panama exposition in San Francisco next summer and that she is now making arrangements to go to Washington in 1917 to see James E. Watson inaugurated as president of the United States makes her a very unusual woman of her age.

Mrs. Bowles has always been a great admirer of former Congressman Watson. Each year on her birthday she has always announced that she expects to live to see James E. Watson elected president of the United States. She believes that Mr. Watson is a great man and that he should be honored by this nation.

HOW TO MAKE THE CHEAPEST AND BEST COUGH REMEDY AT HOME

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents' worth) make a full pint (16 ozs.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for you, order direct of R. J. Schiffmann, the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. It is altogether different from any other cough remedy. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as the druggist named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. In fact any druggist will sell this new remedy under the same guarantee. If your druggist will not keep it for you, order direct of R. J. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn. Guaranteed here by

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

NATIONAL WILL START APRIL 14

East and West Splits Fifty-Fifty In Having Openers—Schedule is Out

SEASON CLOSING OCTOBER 7.

Intersectional Battlers do Not Begin Until May 11 When Clubs Go Fast

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)
Philadelphia at Boston
Brooklyn at New York
St. Louis at Chicago
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati

New York, Feb. 11.—In the fore-going fashion the National league clubs will get away from the pole in the annual pennant fight on Wednesday April 14. The schedule was announced yesterday. As usual the West splits fifty-fifty with the East in having openers—Chicago and Cincinnati seeing the field pried off in the West and New York and Boston witnessing the festivities in the East. The season closes October 7.

Following the opening series, the clubs swap places, the Phillies coming to show the Giants their wares, the Dodgers going to engage the world's champion Braves, the Cards invading Cincinnati and the Pirates jumping to Chicago.

The Inter-sectional battles do not begin until May 11, when the Western clubs make their first invasion of the East. Until this date each club will play around its own backyard, as it were, before showing their tricks to their rivals across the Alleghenies.

The first western trip by the eastern clubs is scheduled to start June 4 and 5. The champion Braves will exhibit themselves for the first time to the Cincinnati fans, the Dodgers perform at Pittsburgh, the Giants go to Chicago and the Phillies serve four days at St. Louis. Each club will meet all the western teams before returning home for the double header on July 5—the glorious Fourth coming on Sunday.

The holiday schedule is as follows:

May 31—Philadelphia at Boston, morning and afternoon; Brooklyn at New York, morning and afternoon; Chicago at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at St. Louis, morning and afternoon.

July 5—Boston at Brooklyn, morning and afternoon; New York at Philadelphia, morning and afternoon; St. Louis at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at Chicago, morning and afternoon.

Sept. 6—Boston at New York, morning and afternoon; Philadelphia at Brooklyn, morning and afternoon; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, morning and afternoon; Chicago at St. Louis, morning and afternoon.

ENGLISH SIEZE CARGO

American Steamer Wilhelmina Will be Prize Court Subject.

(By United Press.)
Falmouth, Eng., Feb. 11.—The cargo of foodstuffs on the American steamer Wilhelmina was formerly seized by the government today. Acting under instructions from the foreign office, the port official formally took possession of the steamer and ordered her cargo unloaded. A prize court will act soon. The owners of the cargo will enter the claim that it is not subject to seizure since it left the United States before any action had been taken by the German officials to seize foodstuffs.

SAYS U. S. NAVY IS NOT SMALL

Judge Witherspoon Declares That Experts Say it is the Greatest in World

AGAINST APPROPRIATION BILL

Does Not Believe European War Has Demonstrated Any Necessity for an Increase

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 11.—"The American people haven't any more of an idea of what a great navy they have than a lot of monkeys. I don't believe they know that the highest naval officers of the United States who appeared before the House naval affairs committee, declared that we have the greatest navy in the world, excepting that of England, and that we do not need the addition of fifty million dollars worth of ships this year to make it efficient. Instead of listening to these authorities the people read this bunk the naval agitators spread around."

That is what the leader of the "Little Navy" men in the House declared today. "People mistake the idea of 'Little Navy,'" said Judge Witherspoon, of Mississippi the leader. "We don't believe in a little navy; we believe the navy the United States now has is adequate for defense purposes and we are opposed to building new ships every year just to give the big corporations more chance to graft."

Discussing the naval appropriation bill now before the House, with its building program of two battleships, 17 submarines and other war vessels, Rep. Witherspoon declared that the whole program "is a piece of inexcusable extravagance."

"According to the testimony of the best naval authorities in the United States," said Witherspoon, "submarines are the best insurance against hostile attacks. But they also declare that the United States already has an abundance of submarines and all that are necessary for our fleet. We have 59 at the present time. Now most people do not know what submarines are for. I didn't until Captain Sterling, commander of the submarine flotilla, told me. It is not the idea of naval strategists to have submarines at every port. Captain Sterling said all the United States needs is one for each battleship. 'Submarines,' he said, must be used in a fleet to go out and attack approaching vessels before the dreadnaughts come up. It would be useless to have a few submarines scattered in all our harbors because in time of war the harbors can be mined against all hostile attacks."

Witherspoon does not believe the European war has demonstrated any necessity for an increase in our navy. He declared naval officers who appeared before the House naval affairs committee did not advocate an increase in our forces. He said the new ships are being "shoved" upon the navy department.

"The crowd of naval propagandists made such a howl through the newspapers about an inadequate navy that the House committee has mistaken this for public sentiment," said Witherspoon. "What the House committee voted is entirely unnecessary."

Witherspoon said that he and his "little navy" followers would all vote against the naval program but he added that anything the committee reported would be carried in the House.
If the European war lasts a year or two more, this southern congressman pointed out, the United States may have the largest navy in the world. He said England has lost 37 war vessels, so far. Germany 47 while the other belligerents have lost ships too. "If the United States builds more and more ships every year while the European powers lose more and more every year our navy will soon be the largest in the world. Then the world can point its finger of scorn at the United States for being militaristic."

Witherspoon said he firmly believed

ed that the only reason two battleships a year are built in the United States is that the work upon them is sufficient to keep the largest ship building corporations and the armament plants at work all the year 'round.

CLEVELAND FEARS THE "JITNEY BUS"

City and Railway Officials Fear it Means Elimination of Three Cent Car Fare

WAVE SWEEPING FROM WEST

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., Feb. 11.—Cleveland fears the "jitney bus."

Cleveland city officials and street railway officials alike are on record today against the new auto-bus competition to street cars because it means the elimination of Cleveland's well known three cent street car fare.

The city regulates the street cars. If the earnings of the Cleveland Railway company are over a stipulated amount, fares remain three cents. If they fall below, the fare reverts to five cents.

The popularity of the "jitney bus" sweeping East from the Pacific coast, already has invaded Ohio. Two plans to install the "jitnies" in Cincinnati are now being worked out. One promoter is said to have ordered fifty with the traders. Cleveland, it is feared, is next. The congested street car traffic here which has already caused plans to be drawn for a subway system, would cut down the earnings of the railway company to such an extent that five cent fare would be a permanent infliction.

WOULD CAUSE A DRASTIC CHANGE

Bill in Legislature Would Give Indiana Reformatory Right to do Public Printing.

IT IS TO AMEND ACT OF 1905

By Omitting One Clause, it Would Authorize Institution to Sell Surplus on Market.

A bill that has been introduced in the Indiana state senate in Indianapolis that is attracting more than the usual amount of attention is one which would, if passed, permit the Indiana Reformatory to print any books or blanks for the political divisions of the state, namely: state, county, township, city or town.

The change to be effected would be accomplished by omitting one clause of section three of the Indiana Reformatory act of 1905. This slight change would give extensive powers to the Reformatory in the matter of printing. It would not only give the Reformatory the privilege to do printing for the state, county, township, city or town, but authorizes the state institutions to sell any surplus stock upon the market.

The entire bill as introduced is as follows: "A Bill for an Act to amend Section Three (3) of an act entitled 'An Act regulating the labor of the inmates of the Indiana Reformatory on State account, providing for the schooling and the training of the inmates, providing for trades schools, the utilization of the inmates' labor for State account and the disposition of all articles made in such trades state shall purchase certain articles from the management of the reformatory, and providing necessary appropriation as well as certain other matters relating thereto, and providing penalties therefor, approved March 4, 1905, and declaring an emergency.'"

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That Section three (3) of the above entitled act be amended to read as follows:

Section 3. In the employment, education and training of the inmates of the reformatory the board of managers shall have full power to establish and introduce such trades schools as said board may determine for the training of the inmates in the mechanical arts, and to provide for the manufacture of goods on state account, for the production of such articles as are used in the institutions of the State and in certain political divisions of the State, and in the production of such articles as may be found practicable: Provided, That said reformatory shall not produce any school books and desks used by pupils for use, or which shall be used in the common schools of the State."

The proviso in the present laws reads as follows: "Provided, That said reformatory shall not produce any school books and desks used by pupils for use, or which shall be used in the common schools of the State, or print any other books or blanks except for the use of said reformatory."

So that it will be seen the removal of the clause, "or print any other books or blanks except for the use of said reformatory" would effect the change that is desired.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

"Dear Readers—For years I had suffered untold agonies with what was considered an incurable case of rheumatism. I had given every remedy I laid hands upon a fair trial and had doctor after doctor treat me, without even receiving as much as temporary relief.

At last, the new scientific prescription, Lloyd's Kidney and Rheumatism Tablets, came to my notice. This preparation brought immediate relief and in two weeks I was absolutely cured. The cure has remained permanent, and I am very thankful.

Sufferers! Take my advice and get a few "Lloyd's Tablets" from your druggist today and be convinced of the curative qualities of this new prescription.

Signed, Geo. W. Gearhart, 2350 Weaver St. Columbus, O. P. S. Editor—Please insert this letter in some prominent place in your paper using my name if you wish. G. W. G."

AVERAGE WAGE IS DETERMINED

Department of Agriculture Finds That Farmers Make to Value of $505 Each Year

433 FAMILIES INVESTIGATED

Suggestions Given Farmers How to Successfully Market by Means of Parcel Post

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Department of Agriculture, after investigating 433 families in ten different states in an effort to get a correct answer for the puzzling question, "How much does the average farmer make?" has reached the conclusion that the annual value of the food, fuel, oil and shelter enjoyed by the average farm family is $505. Whatever the farmer makes over this amount he puts in the bank or spends.

Of the $505, the farm furnished directly $429, leaving only $76 to be paid for with farm products or out of the money obtained from farm products. Food was, of course the principal item. This amounted to $401.93, of which $330.65, or 83.3 percent, was raised on the farm.

The investigators found that on the farm examined the average cost of maintaining each grown person was $176 a year, divided as follows: Dairy products .....$21. Pork .....12. Poultry and eggs .....12. Garden .....10. Beef .....6. Fruit .....6. Wood and coal .....13. Groceries .....22. House rent .....28. Labor .....46. Total .....$176.

Of this sum only about 28 percent was paid out in cash. The remainder was furnished by the farm, not in the form of money, but in those things for which the money would have been exchanged. On a certain area in North Carolina included in the scope of the investigation it was found that if it had not been for such articles as tea, coffee, sugar salt and other groceries impossible to produce at home, the farm would have been self-sustaining.

"The bulk of groceries are bought," said the investigators, "but the total quantity consumed depended to a great extent upon the quantity of animal products and vegetables raised on the farm. Where these abounded the consumption of groceries diminished. From this it would seem that an obvious way to effect an important saving in expenses is to raise more vegetables and animal products on the farm. Whether it is better to cut down expenses in this way or to increase receipts by concentrating attention on cash crops is one of the great problems in farm management, the answer to which in each individual case depends upon local conditions."

The Department of Agriculture has just issued these five suggestions to farmers on how to successfully conduct marketing by parcel post:

1. A start may be made with an acquaintance in town or city, or such town or city acquaintance may put the producer into touch with someone who desires to market by parcel post.
2. It is suggested that many towns and city physicians have many patients who need strictly fresh eggs regularly and by making inquiry of a number of city physicians arrangements doubtless could be made not only for the sale of eggs but for many other articles as well.
3. A small advertisement in a city paper might produce satisfactory results. A number of papers are making a specialty of a parcel post advertising column or section, which might be tried.
4. The Post Office Department has instructed the postmasters in a number of cities throughout the country to issue a list of producers, showing what each one has to offer for sale by parcel post, these lists being distributed free to patrons of the office. The cities in which this is now being done are: Athens, Ga., Atlanta, Austin, Tex., Baltimore, Birmingham, Ala., Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Galveston, Hartford, Conn., Indianapolis, La Crosse, Wis., Lawrence, Mass., Los Angeles, Louisville, Lynn, Mass., Nashville, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., Providence, R. I., Richmond, Rock Island, Ill., St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, and Washington, D. C.

Producers who desire to develop marketing by parcel post on more than a small scale might find it desirable to go to the city, select the proper kind of a residential section, make a personal canvass and arrange for trial or sample shipments.

RIOTS IN POTATO MARKET REPORTED

Copenhagen Correspondent Says Crowd Stormed Municipal Shops in Berlin Yesterday

BREWERIES TO CUT OUTPUT

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 11.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company wired today that serious riots had taken place in the potato market in Berlin yesterday. The police were required to take stern measures to suppress the disorder. The municipal market was closed at 11 a. m. the correspondent said, because the supply was exhausted.

Fighting crowds stormed the shops demanding potatoes and shouting, "Where are we going to get potatoes?" The police finally restored order.

Orders have been issued to all of the breweries to reduce their output.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

Important to Everyone

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Rushville Daily Republican.

Pay Telephone Toll

Don't overlook to pay your telephone toll before Feb. 12 if you wish to avoid paying 15 cents extra for collection. No notice will be given by telephone. M. V. SPIVEY, 278111 Secretary.

Patrick Henry a Tavern Keeper

Patrick Henry, whom Thomas Jefferson said "gave the impulse to the American revolution," assisted his father-in-law, John Shelton, in a tavern at Hanover, Va.

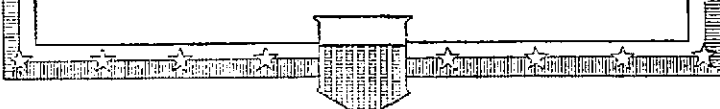

This tavern, like others of colonial times, sold light wines and manufactured malt liquors for its own trade.

During the three years (1760-1763) spent in the tavern, the young Henry learned much from the patriots assembled there to discuss the tyranny of the mother country.

A few years later the spirit of liberty kindled in that old Virginia tavern burst forth in Patrick Henry's fiery speech which inflamed the country.

Patrick Henry was a patriot but not a prohibitionist. An inventory of his estate shows that he manufactured liquors on two of his Virginia plantations.

The Daily Republican

"The Newspaper Everybody in Rush County Will Eventually Read"

To be a success must be well advertised. The more people who know of a sale the larger the crowd, resulting in more competitive bidding, higher prices for the stuff and more dollars in the holder's pocket. The Daily Republican goes into every town, community and neighborhood in Rush County, and has more paid subscribers than all the rest of the Rushville papers combined. Right now everybody is looking for and reading sale notices. They want to buy. The Republican's "Public Sales" advertisements tell them who is having a sale, when and where. Sale bills will always be used but their number is decreasing. Newspaper advertising is found to reach more people and when they are in a mood to read, and is getting more popular all the time. When a man holds a sale he expects to spend a few dollars in advertising it, but he wants results. Come in; we can "deliver the goods." "Red Head" sale bills and display spaces at a reasonable rate, and we give you prompt service.

Advertisements under this head are charged for at the rate of one-third cent per word each insertion. The same Ad will be placed in the Indianapolis Star and Daily Republican at the combined rate of one cent per word. Found articles of small value will be advertised free of charge.

Something of Disposition of Feminine Sex as Legislators Shown in Bills They Espouse.

ENDORSED BY THE COUNCIL

Most of the Measures Are Related to the Welfare of Women and Children in State.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Something of the disposition of women as lawmakers is shown by the bills endorsed by the "women's legislature," the Legislative Council of Indiana Women. These are the bills, relating to the welfare of women and children, which the women asked the men to pass:

S. B. 27. Commission to care for the needs and education of the adult blind.

S. B. 61. Supplementing housing law. Gives health officer same power over insanitary buildings that fire marshal, has over fire traps.

S. B. 105. To provide for one woman on every school board appointed by the council.

S. B. 117. To put men to work on public work in cases on non-support and pay wages to the family.

S. B. 165. To raise the age of consent to 18 years.

S. B. 180. To add two deputies to factory inspection force—both women.

S. B. 185. To provide for full-time health officers.

S. B. 212. To define adultery.

H. B. 38. To provide for the abatement houses of prostitution as nuisances.

H. B. 106. To abolish free lunches in saloons.

H. B. 178. Same as S. B. 185.

H. B. 232. To compel the appointing of police women in cities of classes 1 and 4 to 4.

H. B. 213. Providing for codification of library laws.

NEXT SUNDAY IS ST. VALENTINE DAY

Many New Designs Are Exhibited in Show Windows, Some of Them So-Called Comic Kind.

CHILDREN WILL CELEBRATE

St. Valentine's day is only a few days off, coming on Sunday, the 14th. There are many new picturesque designs in valentines this year, as shown by the assortment the dealers have on hand. There are also a goodly supply of the old kind of comic, or so-called comic, valentines, costing a penny to get them and probably a valued friend by sending them.

Make your own valentine is a new suggestion this year, and let it express something different from so-called wit and humor.

Valentine parties have been planned to precede or follow the day and many attractive and appropriate novelties are offered in connection with the celebration, this month, of Lincoln's birthday on the 12th and Washington's birthday on the 22d.

DECISIVE VOTE EXPECTED SOON

Likely No Opposition Will Develop Against Direct Primary Bill Until Third Reading.

JUST WHERE TAGGART STANDS

Majority Report Favors Passage of Measure—Some Hold it is Not a Party Measure.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—John B. Jones expects a vote on his state wide, direct primary measure today or tomorrow. He consulted with Speaker Bedwell about the matter this morning, asking that he be allowed to pick the time when the measure is handed down for second reading. Jones would not comment on the chances of his bill, saying that things had been happening pretty fast in the past few days.

The vote will come on the question to substitute the minority for the majority report. The majority favors the bill.

Following the principle laid down to it half a dozen times by Rep. Niblack of Vincennes, the house is expected to pass the bill on to third reading and full discussion. Niblack has interposed, several times, notably in the second-class-gary bill, to prevent killing bills on second reading.

With a poll of the house practically impossible under the year's rules, newspapermen have been forced to content themselves with getting isolated opinions on important measures. The two floor leaders of the house were asked concerning the primary bill.

Rep. Eschbach, Republican floor leader, said he had no idea how the Republicans would vote on the primary measure. He said they had not caucussed on it, and for that matter would not caucus on anything if it could be avoided.

"As for myself, I shall vote for the bill," said Eschbach.

Other Republicans seemed more inclined to consider this as a party measure since the state wide primary is unequivocally endorsed in the Democratic platform.

Democratic Floor Leader Brannaman, who is known to be firmly opposed to the primary as it is found in the Jones bill, said he probably would speak against the measure. He would make no prediction.

The attitude of Thomas Taggart has been interesting. His statement of yesterday afternoon was considered by friends of the primary to be unfavorable to the Jones bill, in that it favored a plan by which the opinion might be obtained for or against the primary.

Jones said today that the opinion of the people already had been voiced, and that apparently Mr. Taggart was in favor of the Osborn bill which is simply a referendum measure.

Whether the determined stand of Secretary Bryan for the statewide primary will have any effect on the vote is still problematical.

The house committee on election submitted a divided report on the Jones bill yesterday. The majority report, which favors the passage of the bill, was signed by five Democrats, Representatives Kemp, Drago, Griffith, Emy, Dibble and one Republican, Representative Yoho.

The minority report, which favors the indefinite postponement of the bill, was signed by three Republicans—Representatives Scott, Foster and Southard—and one Democrat, Nichols. Representative Kinder, a Democrat, was not present when the committee passed upon the bill.

The Jones bill, members of the committee say, is not a party platform measure for the reason that one section in the bill does not conform to the recommendations of the Democratic state platform. This section provides that the state platform shall be prepared and promulgated by a convention of successful candidates for nomination after the primary, while the platform provides that the state platform shall be adopted by a convention of delegates from through-

WANTS HIS BILL RECONSIDERED

McCormick Busy Trying to Find Some Friend of Measure to Abolish Capital Punishment.

HOUSE KILLS IT OUTRIGHT

Father of Bill "Braces" Speaker For Handing it Down When Its Friends Were Absent.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Senator McCormick, father of the bill abolishing capital punishment, which passed the senate and then was summarily executed in the house late yesterday when its enacting clause was stricken off, was busy today trying to find some one who would be willing to reconsider the motion. His task appeared difficult.

Parliamentary rule requires that in order to reconsider a motion, some member who voted for the motion must move reconsideration. Ordinarily when a motion is about to be lost, some friend of the measure being defeated changes his vote to aye. He can then move reconsideration.

But friends of McCormick bill were caught asleep. Speaker Bedwell handed down the bill before it was expected. None of its friends understood it was receiving its death blow until the vote was announced. None of the friends of the bill was quick witted enough to change his vote, and it was considered doubtful whether enemies of the bill, who were well organized, would permit one of their number to move reconsideration.

McCormick was notified and rushed into the house chamber after it was all over. He vowed he would have the bill reconsidered. The speaker walked by and McCormick "braced" him on the matter of handing down the bill before its friends were ready.

out the state prior to the primary election. In this respect alone, it is said, the Jones bill is not in accordance with the platform recommendations.

AEROPLANES BEING USED

Both Sides Along Northern Battle Line Bombarded From Air

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 11.—Bombardment of positions from aeroplanes was reported today by both sides all along the battle line in the north. This modern method of warfare has been resorted to to aid the artillery duels which continue uninterrupted. Both sides are using their full artillery strength and many of the villages behind the fighting line are suffering greatly.

TILLAGE WILL HELP

Roll the wheatfield as soon as it will bear a team upon it. Follow this rolling immediately with a light harrowing. Better use a "weeder" if you have one. If you have a harrow with adjustable teeth, throw the teeth back at an angle of 45 degrees and harrow the field, going back and forth parallel with the wheat rows. This harrowing will not injure the wheat roots, but will break up the crust and make a surface mulch. This surface mulch will prevent much evaporation and save thousands of barrels of water. If you do not happen to have a roller, or if you do not think it wise to roll the wheat, harrow just the same. It pays.

Plantfood Makes Crops

The tiny wheat plant must have special nourishment. It must have a liberal supply of readily available plant-food of the right kind to maintain it in vigorous growth. Big crops demand enormous quantities of plant-food. The biggest help you can give your wheat crop is to apply 100 pounds per acre of Swift's Steamed Bone and Potash, analyzing 2 per cent Ammonia, 8 per cent available Phosphoric Acid, and 2 per cent Potash. This should be broadcasted or distributed on the wheat through the fertilizer attachment of the wheat drill, with the lime spreader, or other fertilizer distributor. If the wheat drill is used, leave the discs suspended so that they will not cut the wheat plants. Apply this fertilizer before the field is rolled. Harrowing it will work it into the soil where the roots make best use of the plant-food. You can carry on these operations until the wheat is up 4 inches in height without injury to the crop. Fertilizer feeds the crop. It contains no weed seeds.

Help For Grass and Clover Seedling

If grass and clover seed is sown upon the wheat field in early Spring, this early cultivation will bury the seed sufficiently deep to insure good germination. The addition of available plant-food in the forms mentioned, will greatly increase the chances of a successful "catch of grass." By such treatment, weak wheat will be greatly benefited and materially assisted towards a profitable yield of superior quality of grain. Top dressing pays. Try it on your Oats and double the yield.

Writes of Dunkirk, Where German Aeroplane Bombs Are Causing
Funerals Almost Daily.

LIGHTS PUT OUT AT NIGHT

During Day City Goes About Its Business as Usual But it Dreads
The Nights.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Dunkirk, France, Jan. 28.—(By mail to New York)—Dunkirk is forbidden ground, and I am under arrest in a hotel as I write this.

My jailer has orders to take me down to the train at noon and start me off for Calais. His name is Theodore Hoorens, and Seattle is his home, though he came over here for the war, and was assigned to the secret service of the French army. At this blessed moment, his wife is in Deadwood, South Dakota, and Hoorens wants her to have a copy of this story addressed to her, in care of General Delivery. He's glad to be a jailer for an American. In fact, I think I should have spent last night in jail, where two English newspaper men are languishing, had not Hoorens told the chief of the secret service that he would vouch for my not running away.

But, friendly as he is, Hoorens has to escort me to the train and put me on it.

Hoorens has his own troubles, too. "I'm worried about my father," said Hoorens. "He lives in Arron-tieres, and he's 83 years old. The roof of the old home there was blown off by a German shell, and he had to get out. He went to live with neighbors and their house was unroofed and so dad moved from there, to a cellar in the house of another friend, but I can't get him to move from the town. He says he's lived there all his life and that no Germans can drive him out."

Last evening, before the secret service men got me, I had a chance to look over this much-bombarded town. In the past three weeks, three sets of funerals have passed through its streets. Dunkirk burying its dead victims of German aeroplanes. Only this morning seven caskets, bearing the corpses of children who were killed when a flock of twenty-four German flying machines passed over Dunkirk, were carried through the streets in hearse. Count Litchtervelde, of the Belgian war office, who saw the funeral, told me it was the saddest thing he had seen in all the war.

Dunkirk goes about its business, as usual, until nightfall. Then it closes its shutters and stays indoors, and at nine o'clock out goes every light, in every house and every hotel.

"To my citizens," read a public letter which the mayor has posted throughout the town. "You are brave, I know, but nevertheless, aeroplanes are flying over our city, and I beg you to go to the cellars at the first sound of the warning signal from the toosin. It is brave to risk one's life when some benefit is to be gained, but it is folly and not bravery, to put one's life in jeopardy out of sheer thoughtlessness or bravado. Therefore, go to your cellars when the alarm is first 'given.'"

The extraordinary thing about this warning, is that no one obeys it. The other night, Dunkirk was shelled for a fourth time. Eighty bombs were dropped, and there were five more funerals, and the crowded hospitals became more crowded, for there were fifty more wounded to care for.

The good folk of Dunkirk will not go to their cellars. The sight is too wonderful to miss. At one time they saw four French aeroplanes chase seven German planes through the sky; and who would stay in a cellar while a show like that was going on? The second time, sixteen German aeroplanes hovered over the town, and the Dunkirkians rushed to the streets to watch for another sky battle. Sure enough, six French and three English planes rushed into the skies toward the Germans,

Regional Bank System Criticised by Farmer as Money Tieup Plan

The man who indicted the best indictment of the Wilson administration federal reserve bank system in the Indianapolis Star simply signed himself "Farmer," but he exhibited rare knowledge of the federal law and expressed the same sentiment that has been running in the heads of many bankers in the following:

I notice large headlines in the papers stating that the "officers of the regional bank system had made an optimistic report."

These officers were optimistic, but in this report they were very careful not to give any facts or figures so that some other people might also be optimistic.

The fact is that the "system" thus far has been a rank failure and there are no prospects of it ever being a success.

The more one studies it the more he becomes convinced that the main purpose is to give a lot of men who are in favor with the administration fat jobs in banking institutions in which they have no financial interests—banks that were capitalized by the national banks of the country not voluntarily, but under compulsion by the government, under threat of having their charters declared void.

Do the bankers like it? They have to say they do, and smile when they say it, for if they do not they lay themselves liable to criticism by the national banking department, as now constituted and criticism affects the standing of the banks, and a bank without any standing can do no business.

Few people know just how the Federal reserve banks are organized or conducted.

First, every national bank was compelled under the law to take stock equal to 6 per cent of its capital and surplus. Upon this it may, if the reserve banks make it, get a dividend of not more than 6 per cent per annum; in fact it may get no dividend, but be assessed to pay the running expenses of the regional banks.

The member banks must keep five-twelfths of their reserve funds in the regional reserve banks in the district in which such member banks are located, and upon these funds the member banks get no interest or other income—it is all dead money. The member banks, however, if they put up the proper collateral, are allowed to borrow of the regional banks, at the bank rate of interest, this dead money mentioned, or rather get circulating notes issued by the regional bank.

One of the troubles that the member banks have in getting this dead money, or its equivalent of the regional bank is that there is not a country bank that carries 5 per cent of the kind of paper required by the reserve bank as collateral, and the banks of such cities as Indianapolis do not carry 10 per cent of their loans of such paper, I am informed.

The result is that the country banks can do no business with the reserve banks and the city banks can do very little business with them.

As regards the success of the regional reserve bank at San Francisco, one of the papers there has the following to say:

"We note the early activity of one of the reserve banks. It is hardly a type to characterize the bank as a money-maker."

"Press advices state that up to Dec. 12 the bank, with a clerical force of seventy-five employed, contracted less than $30,000 worth of loans, which, on a 6 per cent, sixty day basis, would represent an income of $150 a month for two months. With a governor's salary of $20,000 per annum as announced you may wonder if there will be any dividends."

The question is, where is all the money, to come from to pay salaries clerk hires, rent, fuel, lights, supplies and other expenses of running these reserve banks? The answer is the member banks (the national banks of the country), which, as stated, are liable to assessments for that purpose.

It is said that the governor of our reserve bank at Chicago gets $30,000 per annum, the regional office, $10,000 and the assistant regional officer $8,000. An army of men is employed, magnificent quarters provided, gorgeously furnished and equipped, immense vaults, banking supplies and paraphernalia to suit.

The members of the national reserve board draw $12,000 a year each—twelve of them and expenses.

The members of the regional banks must meet at least four times a year at Washington. They draw their expenses and salaries to be fixed by the regional board. Add all the salaries and expenses of the various boards and the officers of these banks and the general running expenses and you would find a sum that would stagger a "Wallington." J. Rufus would turn green with envy.

The general public under the law, can do no business with these banks, the country banks having practically no "commodity notes" and the city banks very little of this kind of paper. Where is the regional bank to get any business.

Remember that the common run of notes made by merchants and farmers can not be used by member banks to borrow money out of a regional bank. The notes must be given for a "commodity" payable in a fixed, limited time, and must be paid at maturity.

The truth is that the regional banks have millions locked up in their vaults, that is doing no one any good—it is absolutely "dead money."

The last report of the reserve banks that I have noticed, published with other bank reports, showed that the national banks had paid in to the regional banks the sum of $202,623,000. Of this amount, there had been $13,062,000 and circulating notes issued to the amount of $1,913,000, issued against collateral. This leaves a balance in the regional banks of about $200,000,000—dead money—money that ought to be working. This vast sum has been taken from the channels of trade. And this is not all. The banks of the country have only paid one installment of 16 2/3 per cent, on the amount of the capital they must take in the regional banks and 40 per cent of the amount of the reserve funds they must pay in as called for. When it is all paid in, which must be in a short time, there will be about $1,060,000,000 withdrawn from the national banks and placed in the regional banks, instead of being loaned to the business concerns of the country.

Well may the people say "money is scarce and hard to get." This vast reserve fund is not only taken out of circulation, but the banks, the real owners of it, get no income from it whatever.

It has been said by some that it should make no difference where a bank kept its reserve, and it might as well be in the regional reserve bank as elsewhere, but such is not the case. Little banks must keep money in the big banks in order that drafts may be honored and that collections may be made. A bank in Indianapolis must keep just as much money in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia as it ever did and the country banks must keep just as much money in Indianapolis, Cincinnati and St. Louis as they ever did. Regional banks can not be used in general commercial transaction. Therefore, the money placed in a regional bank might as well be put in a safety deposit box or in a stocking leg, so far as using it in business is concerned.

Business men of all times have been mistaken, it seems, in thinking that a business enterprise is most successful when managed by those financially interested in it. No one connected with the regional banks has any interest in them, except to draw salaries. The position of every officer in the bank and in the regional board depends on the result of the national elections.

W. J. Bryan was on to his job when he wrote to his friend in San Domingo to look out for "positions for worthy Democrats and let him know." He was likewise on his job when he assisted in building up the regional bank scheme. It has supplied the fattest jobs and juiciest plums that ever have been given out by any administration.

Kern, Owen & Co., doing business in the United States Senate, never knew anything about banks—national, state or grave, they all looked alike to them—but when it comes to making places for the "worthy" of the Wilson-Bryan school they are accurate. It is the greatest political financial institution that was ever constructed, on some other fellow's money. The old individual "sand-bagger" is a back number.

But what's the difference? Every stockholder in a national bank belongs to the interests. It may be a widow or an orphan, a small farmer, a drummer or a laboring man who invests his savings in a way that he does not have to give it his personal attention, or it may be even a man of means, but what of it? What rights have any of these people to consider, when it comes up to the job hunter, when making places for his political friends?

I have never been a pessimist or claimed to be a prophet, but if there are not some radical changes in the regional reserve bank laws, we will have an explosion some of these days that the "South Sea Bubble" and the "Credit Mobilier" will be as nothing compared to it.

PROSPECTS OF FAIR ARE FINE

special attractions are expected.

The night fair, which was given a trial last year, will be held again this year. The people showed last year that they patronize a night fair and the management is convinced that with a good program for the nights they can attract many people to the grounds. One difficulty that hindered the night fair at its initiation here was the lack of sufficient light. There was enough electricity but the wires to carry the electricity were not large enough and the lamps gave a dim glow so that it was hardly possible to get around over the grounds.

This will be corrected this year, and the management is laying plans to make the night fair a most attractive event. It is announced that fireworks for two nights during the week has been contracted for even this early in the year and the management is figuring on other night attractions.

It is realized now—and it was at the close of last year's fair for that matter—that the fireworks display was given too early in the evening last year. Many persons who were on the grounds missed the display, not knowing that it was to be given so early. Many others who had planned to attend the fair that night found that the display had been given before they arrived.

J. Q. Thomas says that concessions are being sold earlier this year than he ever knew of before, which, he believes, is the sign of a healthy condition. The fair came out with a little money ahead last year, the first time it has in many years and this thing alone has aroused the county fair workers to renewed activity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy and son, Otto, have moved from this city to their farm near Gings.
